U.S. Warplanes Blast Targets Near Haiphong

Ground Forces Make Contact in Central Highlands

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Air Force and Navy fighters blasted targets within 14 miles of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port, while ground forces in the south made sharp contacts Thursday with the Communists in the Central Highlands and near the demilitarized zone.

An F8 Crusader jet from the 7th Fleet carrier Oriskany became the 11th American plane lost over the Communist North this week, equal to any seven-day period of the war.

The pilot parachuted into the Gulf of Tonkin, swam two miles to an island and was picked up by a rescue helicopter.

The chief target of the raids near Haiphong was the Uong Bi power plant, 14 miles northeast of the city. It was first hit last December and was said then to produce 15 per cent of North Viet Nam's electric supply.

American warplanes flew 118 missions against the Communist North Thursday, a spokesman said. Navy planes came from three 7th Fleet carriers—the Oriskany, Constellation and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Ground action was generally light in South Viet Nam, except for two flashpoints where continuing American and Vietnamese spoiling sweeps have accounted for 783 Communists killed in the past two weeks.

Viet Cong guerrillas mortared the U.S. Marine command post for Operation Colorado about 30 miles southeast of Da Nang early today, inflicting light casualties and damage, a Marine spokesman said.

An estimated 40 Viet Cong fired 15 to 20 mortar rounds and three recoilless rifle rounds.

Armed helicopters went into action, but no estimate of Viet Cong casualties was available.

In a separate action, two U.S. Marine tanks sank three Viet Cong sampans and killed 15 guerrillas 18 miles south of Da Nang on the Vu Gia River Thursday, a Marine spokesman said.

Elsewhere in North Viet Nam, American aircraft made virtually a shuttle run along the coastal panhandle, where the Communists have stepped up infiltration efforts. Twelve fuel

Hanoi Fuel Dump Raiders Captured

TOKYO (AP)—North Viet Nam announced today it had captured two of the U.S. Air Force pilots who took part in the first raid on the Hanoi fuel dump June 29.

Radio Hanoi said the pilots were Maj. James H. Kasler, 40, a Korean ace and leader of the attack, and Capt. Wiley Shattuck.

The U. S. command in Saigon announced earlier that Kasler, regarded as the leading fighter-bomber pilot of the war, was shot down over North Viet Nam on Monday.

There has been no announcement about Shattuck.

Super Spy Agency Boners Claimed

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Des Moines Register and Minneapolis Tribune say in a dispatch from their Washington bureau that Hans V. Tofte indicates he has inside information about the Bay of Pigs, the Dominican Republic and Vietnamese operations that could create "embarrassing issues" for the Central Intelligence Agency.

Tofte, a CIA operative who was suspended after papers were seized at his home in Washington by CIA security officers July 24, wrote a three-page letter to a friend at Mason City, Iowa, Washington correspondent Clark Mollenhoff said in his story for the Cowles Newspapers.

Mollenhoff said that Tofte revealed in the letter "that his analysis of the Bay of Pigs and serious blunders in the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam" were among papers seized.

Mollenhoff wrote, "Tofte indicated the CIA security raid on his home might have been motiivated by a desire to seize the highly critical analyses."

The dispatch said Tofte has written the friend, Charles E. Strickland, asking that he inform friends of Tofte's controversy with the CIA.

The story added, "He indicated he hopes to force an expose and a cleanup of top personnel at the CIA, and anticipates a difficult and bitter fight."

Mollenhoff wrote that most of the letter represented an attack on CIA Director Richard Helms and carried implications that Helms was one of "those who planned and executed the disastrous Bay of Pigs invasion."

The dispatch quoted Tofte as saying certain CIA officials tried to "railroad" him out of the agency in 1961 but failed.

The case broke two weeks ago when Tofte was quoted by Mollenhoff as saying some $20,000 worth of jewelry was reported missing from his home after CIA personnel had been there.

Gunman Slain By Police in New England

No Explanation Made for Man's Sudden Attack

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A man sought in a slaying early today went on a gun rampage shortly after noon, shooting two men and two women at a gun club.

The extent of their injuries was not known at once. In an ensuing gun duel with police officers he was himself shot and pronounced dead on arrival at a New Haven hospital.

Police identified him as Joseph Davis, a Negro.

He was mortally wounded by police Sgt. John Widmann who went across a room at him, using a circular table as a shield.

The shooting occurred in a cafeteria at the Winchester Gun Club. There was no immediate explanation for the outburst.

William Natale, 45, an electrician, narrowly escaped being shot by pretending he had been hit.

"I was sitting with four other electricians," Natale said, "and we heard gunshots and we heard some girls screaming. Everybody started running out. William Carney and myself started running to where we could hear the screams."

"We didn't know it was some guy shooting people."

The shootings occurred shortly after noon at the Winchester Gun Club, a spot where employees of the Winchester-Western Division of Olin Mathieson Corp. have lunch, recreational facilities and a rifle range.

The division manufactures guns.

It was at 12:30 p.m. that police and detectives, their revolvers drawn, charged the front door of the brick building on Winchester Avenue.

Seconds later, volleys of shots could be heard. Then the man was carried out.

The woman found hacked to death earlier today was Mrs. Rebecca M. Wilson of New Haven, 34-year-old mother of four. Police said she had been struck repeatedly with a sharp, heavy instrument.

Her body was found in a wooded area at Bowen Field—the sports stadium of Southern Connecticut State College.

Logan Bypass Ceremony Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Groundbreaking for the first section of the U.S. 33 bypass of Logan in Hocking County is set for 9:30 a. m. Aug. 23, with Gov. James A. Rhodes officiating.

The ceremonies will take place at the intersection of Ohio 664 and Lake Logan Road, preceded by a breakfast sponsored by the Ohio Contractors Association and the Logan Trade Club.

The 5.3-mile, $3.4 million section extends 0.37 miles west of Ohio 180 to 0.38 miles west of Ohio 93 in Good Hope and Falls Townships. It includes two bridges, one over the Hocking River and one carrying McArthur Road over U.S. 33.

North Korea Announces Split with Red Chinese

TOKYO (AP)—North Korea today declared its independence within the world Communist movement, dramatically breaking with its old pro-Peking line.

"There can be no superior party or inferior party not a party that gives guidance and a party that receives guidance," said the official party newspaper Rodong Shinmoon.

"One country of the party cannot serve as the center of the world revolution or the leading party."

The statement also disclosed a purge of party members guilty of "flunkysm"—a slavish following of the theories of unnamed big Communist powers. It attacked both Chinese and Soviet communism, but the heaviest criticism fell on the Chinese, who regard themselves as the only true defenders of the Communist faith.

The statement signified an almost total rupture in Pyongyang's ideological ties to Peking, which have become progressively weaker in recent months.

It also aligned the North Koreans with the trend, demonstrated most importantly by Romania, toward independence and antinationalism in the Communist world.

"Each Communist or workers' party can and must shape its policy independently," Rodong Shinmoon said.

It added, "Revolution can neither be exported nor imported. The revolution in each country, of course, is fulfilled in conjunction with the world revolution and is influenced by international factors. Important as outside support is, it plays only a secondary role."

Chinese influence on the North Koreans reached a high point with the participation of one million Chinese "volunteers" in the Korean War in the early 1950s.

But relations began to cool after Peking and Moscow became involved in a bitter struggle to be dominant in the Communist world and the Chinese branded the Soviets as traitors to the Communist movement.

Since the North Koreans, like the North Vietnamese, are much in Moscow's debt, they apparently have decided that it is safer to adopt a neutral role than to take sides in the Soviet-Chinese quarrel.

The North Korean statement accused the Soviet Union of lack of enthusiasm for helping the Vietnamese Communists but criticized more sharply China's refusal to form a united front with the Soviets to help the Vietnamese Communists.

The central problem, Rodong Shinmoon said, is to rally all "anti-imperialists" against the United States.

"For the sake of the anti-imperialist joint action and the united front," Rodong Shinmoon said, "common ground should be sought, first of all on this fundamental question, shelving other questions for the time being."

10 Inches Of Rain Fall In Texas Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Torrential rains that drenched areas in extreme southeastern Texas tapered off today but heavy thundershowers continued in scattered sections in southern and eastern states and in Northern Plains.

Up to 10 inches of rain fell on some Texas communities Thursday. Civil defense and fire department units helped residents flee from some 150 homes in low areas in the Port Arthur area.

Lightning struck the Village Theater and it was destroyed by fire.

A small tornado Thursday night ripped through a residential area of Holyoke, Mass., and nearby South Hadley, damaging several homes and toppling scores of trees. No injuries were reported.

Fairly heavy rain was reported at Knoxville, Tenn., Anniston, Ala., and Lemmon, S.D. Thundershowers were indicated across the southern tier of states and northward into the Central Rockies and Northern Plains.

Temperatures were comfortably cool in most of the northern half of the nation. But warm weather continued along the immediate Atlantic Seaboard and across the South.

U.S. Economic Indicators Now Display Rosy Hues

WASHINGTON (AP)—A midsummer crop of rosy-hued economic indicators is blossoming in the nation's capital.

In rapid fire Thursday, the Census Bureau reported glowing figures on family incomes and the Commerce Department released figures on fat corporate profits.

President Johnson, meanwhile, was meeting with his Cabinet. After the session ended, the Cabinet members held a series of briefing for newsmen.

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, summed up the briefings this way:

"In all cases the economic gains have been spectacularly larger in the past two and a half years than in the previous decade."

He displayed charts showing increases in the national output of goods and services, industrial production, business investment, per capita income, employment other than on farms, pay for all employees, farm income, profits after taxes and dividends.

In its report, the Commerce Department said corporate profits before taxes leveled off at a record seasonally adjusted annual rate of $80 billion in the April-June quarter of 1966.

Profits actually reached the $80 billion peak in the first quarter following three straight jumps, the department said. The second quarter leveling was caused by a relatively sharp decline in the automobile industry, which offset moderate gains in most industries.

The Census Bureau said median family income rose 5 per cent in 1965 to $6,900, equaling the 1964 boost. But the bureau added that price increases wiped out about 2 per cent of that gain.

The median income is the midpoint—and not the average—for the incomes of the nation's 48.3 million households. (Continued on Page 3)

Lunar Orbiter Is on Course

352 Photographs Of Moon Sought

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—After a series of rolls, twists and a burst of power, America's shutterbug Lunar Orbiter is reported on course today for an egg-shaped orbit around the moon.

The 850-pound craft—which resembles an open flower with its solar panels extended—obeyed commands Thursday to fire its main rocket engine and correct its course to the moon.

Spokesmen for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said.

If everything goes as planned, Lunar Orbiter will go into orbit around the moon Sunday after its thrust rocket is fired again to slow it down 550 miles from the moon.

Orbiter's goal is to take 352 quality pictures of the moon, helping select a spot where Apollo astronauts may land before 1970.

The main photographic target is a 3,000-mile strip along the moon's equator in which nine areas have been picked as possible Apollo landing sites.

One of the sites is where a Surveyor I spacecraft settled gently on the moon in the dry Sea of Storms. Lunar Orbiter will try to photograph Surveyor.

Orbiter also carried devices to measure radiation near the moon and detect micrometeorites.

The first planned orbit ranges from 120 miles to 1,150 miles above the moon. This is to be changed a few days later, bringing the spacecraft down to 28 miles above the target area.

The stubby craft was boosted toward the moon Wednesday from Cape Kennedy, Fla., aboard an Atlas-Agena rocket combination.

If Orbiter attains its planned moon orbit, it will be the first successful lunar orbit for American spacecraft—after seven failures.

The Russians achieved lunar orbit last April, but scientists said it was believed their spacecraft carried no cameras.

Higher Meat, Milk Prices Hinted Coming Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housewives now paying higher prices for meat and milk may be paying even more for those vital farm products a year from now.

This prospect stems from a variety of facts: the sharply declining supply of livestock feed grains, the drought that has dried up thousands of acres of pastures around the nation, and the expected smaller crop of hay this year.

From the American consumer's standpoint, the disappearance of a surplus on feeds—corn, barley, sorghum grains and oats—has much darker aspects than the big decline in wheat stocks this year.

The wheat situation has attracted wider attention but in the long run the disappearance of feed grain surpluses could have much more serious repercussions on food supplies and prices.

A shortened supply of wheat will not be felt at home because any rationing of supplies will be limited to foreign areas, particularly those receiving U.S. food aid.

But reduced supplies of corn and other grains would have greatest impact in the United States—where the great bulk of them are consumed. Feed grains are the basic raw materials for producing beef, pork, milk, poultry and eggs.

This reduction in feed grain supplies its livestock producers through increased prices—that is, costs of producing beef cattle, hogs, milk and poultry. To the degree these costs are not offset by corresponding increases in livestock, milk and poultry prices, farmers tend to cut back on production.

Prolonged dry weather could lead many cattlemen to liquidate herds—an action which would dump extra large supplies of cattle on markets in a short period.

Such cattle liquidation, with its consequent lower prices, would have a depressing effect on hog prices. This could be expected to lead farmers to lower hog production next year. This would be reflected in reduced supplies of pork—and higher prices for the vital product—in the second half of 1967 and possibly well into 1968.

Girl Charges Boyfriend, 12 of His Pals with Rape

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The 18-year-old girl told police the evening started when her boyfriend and another member of his "chain gang" motorcycle group called for her at her home in nearby Leetsdale.

Shortly after sunrise Thursday she was stopped staggering along a Leetsdale street by a milk man, who took her to police.

She told police she had been repeatedly raped and assaulted by her boyfriend and his gang of 25 along the Ohio River while some took pictures.

Police arrested 12 men and a teen-ager, some with long, unkempt hair, some bearded and others with the sleeves of their jackets and tee shirts cut away to show their biceps.

All were charged with assault and battery. Ten were charged with rape and four with sodomy.

After an arraignment before Justice of the Peace Thomas F. Wilson of Swissvale they were committed to Allegheny County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

The girl was treated at Seewickley Valley Hospital and released to the custody of Leetsdale police.

Those arrested and the charges:

Stedman Beighlen, 27, Rochester, rape and assault and battery; Norman McCray, 27, Rochester, aggravated assault and battery and indecent assault; Harry Cotter, 27, Freedom, rape, sodomy and assault and battery; Gaylord Gredel, 23, Monaca, rape and assault and battery; William Douglas, 26, Rochester, rape and sodomy, and Scott Cope, 24, Rochester, rape and indecent assault.

Also, Clifford Stoner Jr., 21, Vanport, rape and assault and battery; John Hrusovskii, 25, Youngstown, Ohio rape, sodomy and assault and battery; John Jones, 27, Sebring, Ohio, rape, sodomy and assault and battery; John Smith, 19, Youngstown, Ohio rape and assault and battery; Ralph Spozetta Jr., 28, Leetonia, Ohio, rape, assault and battery and sodomy, and George Freck, 24, Rochester, rape and indecent assault.

Letters from Viet Gls Reveal Conflicting Views

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I am proud to be serving my country by being in Viet Nam," a U.S. serviceman wrote President Johnson recently.

"Serving here is the most degrading experience of my life," was the feeling an Army private first class expressed in a letter to Sen. Wayne Morse, D - Ore., an outspoken critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policy.

The two letters are examples of the conflicting views that some Washington officials receive from the troops in Viet Nam.

The President told a news conference last month he gets 50 to 60 letters each week from

Viet Nam. The mail shows he said, that "morale is high, that the men are well and adequately supplied and properly led."

He also told an Indiana audience last month, "I have yet to get one letter from a man that says to me that he wants to get out and come home, that he does not want to stay there and do his job."

But Morse, while receiving fewer letters, nevertheless gets a different viewpoint from the battlefield.

In response to requests from The Associated Press for a look at Johnson's mail from Viet Nam, the White House made available copies of 20 letters he has received in recent months.

Morse provided his entire correspondence on the Viet Nam issue for the same period. It contained seven letters from Viet Nam, the remainder from his home state.

One consistent theme ran through most of Johnson's letters—the servicemen writing the President saw themselves performing an important role in the forefront of a crucial battle against communism. None was critical of administration policy.

Morse's mail, on the other hand, consistently was critical of Johnson's policies and told of morale problems and a feeling (Continued on Page 3)

Later in the flight, with both men inside the capsule, Conrad will back away from the Agena, pulling the cord taut. While 100 feet apart, the two vehicles will be set to spinning, like a cartwheel, as they whirl around the world at 17,500 miles an hour.

Officials hope to see if the spinning will create any artificial gravity and if this could be a way to save fuel when trying to stay close to another satellite.

Tying the two satellites together will be only part of Gordon's job outside. Fed oxygen through a 30-foot umbilical cord, he plans to use a small jet gun to whip from place to place.

He also hopes to be a space mechanic, tinkering with some meaningless nuts and bolts with a tool specially designed for work in weightlessness.

Gordon's second excursion outside the spaceship will be a 2½-hour stand in his seat, during which he will take a series of scientific pictures.

Letters from Viet Gls Reveal Conflicting Views

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I am proud to be serving my country by being in Viet Nam," a U.S. serviceman wrote President Johnson recently.

"Serving here is the most degrading experience of my life," was the feeling an Army private first class expressed in a letter to Sen. Wayne Morse, D - Ore., an outspoken critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policy.

The two letters are examples of the conflicting views that some Washington officials receive from the troops in Viet Nam.

The President told a news conference last month he gets 50 to 60 letters each week from

Viet Nam. The mail shows he said, that "morale is high, that the men are well and adequately supplied and properly led."

He also told an Indiana audience last month, "I have yet to get one letter from a man that says to me that he wants to get out and come home, that he does not want to stay there and do his job."

But Morse, while receiving fewer letters, nevertheless gets a different viewpoint from the battlefield.

In response to requests from The Associated Press for a look at Johnson's mail from Viet Nam, the White House made available copies of 20 letters he has received in recent months. Morse provided his entire correspondence on the Viet Nam issue for the same period. It contained seven letters from Viet Nam, the remainder from his home state.

One consistent theme ran through most of Johnson's letters — the servicemen writing the President saw themselves performing an important role in the forefront of a crucial battle against communism. None was critical of administration policy.

Morse's mail, on the other hand, consistently was critical of Johnson's policies and told of morale problems and a feeling

North Korea Announces Split with Red Chinese

TOKYO (AP)—North Korea today declared its independence within the world Communist movement, dramatically breaking with its old pro-Peking line.

"There can be no superior party or inferior party not a party that gives guidance and a party that receives guidance," said the official party newspaper Rodong Shinmoon.

"One country of the party cannot serve as the center of the world revolution or the leading party."

The statement also disclosed a purge of party members guilty of "flunkeyism" — a slavish following of the theories of unnamed big Communist powers. It attacked both Chinese and

Soviet communism, but the heaviest criticism fell on the Chinese, who regard themselves as the only true defenders of the Communist faith.

The statement signified an almost total rupture in Pyongyang's ideological ties to Peking, which have become progressively weaker in recent months.

It also aligned the North Koreans with the trend, demonstrated most importantly by Romania, toward independence and antinationalism in the Communist world.

"Each Communist or workers' party can and must shape its policy independently," Rodong Shinmoon said.

It added, "Revolution can neither be exported nor imported. The revolution in each country, of course, is fulfilled in conjunction with the world revolution and is influenced by international factors. Important as outside support is, it plays only a secondary role."

Chinese influence on the North Koreans reached a high point with the participation of one million Chinese "volunteers" in the Korean War in the early 1950s.

But relations began to cool after Peking and Moscow became involved in a bitter struggle to be dominant in the Communist world and the Chinese branded the Soviets as traitors to the Communist movement.

Since the North Koreans, like the North Vietnamese, are much in Moscow's debt, they apparently have decided that it is safer to adopt a neutral role than to take sides in the Soviet-Chinese quarrel.

The North Korean statement accused the Soviet Union of lack of enthusiasm for helping the Vietnamese Communists but criticized more sharply China's refusal to form a united front with the Soviets to help the Vietnamese Communists.

The central problem, Rodong Shinmoon said, is to rally all "anti-imperialists" against the United States.

"For the sake of the anti-imperialist joint action and the united front," Rodong Shinmoon said, "common ground should be sought, first of all on this fundamental question, shelving other questions for the time being."

U.S. Economic Indicators Now Display Rosy Hues

WASHINGTON (AP)—A midsummer crop of rosy-hued economic indicators is blossoming in the nation's capital.

In rapid fire Thursday, the Census Bureau reported glowing figures on family incomes and the Commerce Department released figures on fat corporate profits.

President Johnson, meanwhile, was meeting with his Cabinet. After the session ended, the Cabinet members held a series of briefing for newsmen.

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, summed up the briefings this way:

"In all cases the economic gains have been spectacularly larger in the past two and a half years than in the previous decade."

He displayed charts showing increases in the national output of goods and services, industrial production, business investment, per capita income, employment other than on farms, pay for all employees, farm income, profits after taxes and dividends.

In its report, the Commerce Department said corporate profits before taxes leveled off at a record seasonally adjusted annual rate of $80 billion in the April-June quarter of 1966.

Profits actually reached the $80 billion peak in the first quarter following three straight jumps, the department said. The second quarter leveling was caused by a relatively sharp decline in the automobile industry, which offset moderate gains in most industries.

The Census Bureau said median family income rose 5 per cent in 1965 to $6,900, equaling the 1964 boost. But the bureau added that price increases wiped out about 2 per cent of that gain.

The median income is the midpoint — and not the average — for the incomes of the nation's 48.3 million households.

Wealthy File Loud Protest To Low Income Housing Deal

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—A relatively new concept in public housing, in which sites would be scattered throughout the city with 10-to-30 family units of garden-type apartments on each site, has this city of over 100,000 in an uproar.

"Scattered-site" housing is an alternative to high-rise, low-income apartments which, community leaders generally agree, create more problems than they solve through establishment of low-income ghettos.

Protest meetings have been held in predominantly white, middle-class neighborhoods over announced plans to locate some units in these areas.

Opponents insist their objections are not racially motivated but are based on a question of down-zoning neighborhoods of single-family homes. They point out that public housing is not exclusively for Negroes.

In the middle of the controversy is Republican Mayor Thomas C. Mayers, who is running for state comptroller this year.

Mayers proposed the housing idea, appointed a committee last December to find the sites, then announced the general locations in June. He refused to identify specific sites.

A week after the mayor announced the general locations, a group from the Belltown-Newfield and Springdale sections, areas containing mostly 200,000 to $300,000 homes, protested. Then came protests from residents of the Glenbrook and Shippan sections.

As the opposition grew, the mayor called for "better alternatives" and emphasized that public hearings would be held before any sites were finally selected. Earlier he had called on the city housing authority to move rapidly in acquiring sites and beginning construction.

Negro leaders and church groups provided most of the support for Mayers' plan.

The Rev. F. LeMoyné Whitlock said there is a suspicion among minority groups that the opposition is racially motivated since many Negroes would be housed in the units.

The objection of the protesters perhaps was best expressed by city Rep. Frederick E. Karl, a staunch supporter of the mayor on virtually every other issue.

Karl told a protest meeting, "Many of you have lived in sub-standard homes or apartments. You have worked, scrimped and saved to better yourselves. And you don't want to see any agency impose upon you the environment you worked so hard to escape."

Robert Hitchens, 25, Chillicothe, was treated after he fell on a loading dock and injured his left leg while working at Pittsburg Plate Glass.

Linda Leach, 12, daughter of Patsy Rhoades, 466 Dearborn Ave., received treatment after lacerating her right hand on a broken glass jar.

Larry Robey, 23, Chillicothe, ran into a piece of machinery and lacerated his nose and forehead.

U.S. planes sighted only two missiles, compared with the heavier barrages the first two days of the week when 50 planes were lost. The Crusader shot down Thursday raised reported losses over North Viet Nam to 332 planes for the air war, the spokesman said.

The U.S. Command announced that 202 U.S. helicopters had been lost in combat in the south and three in the north, presumably on rescue missions to pick up American fliers. A spokesman said the losses did not include helicopters lost on the ground during guerrilla attacks.

The U.S. Coast Guard kept a guard around the battered 82-foot cutter Point Welcome, which docked in Da Nang after it was mistakenly strafed and rocketed by three U.S. Air Force planes before dawn Thursday.

The attack cost the lives of the commander, Lt. (j.g.) David Brostrom, 25, of San Jose, Calif., and another Coast Guardman and injured five men, including a British newsman.

Pedestrian Is Injured

A Williamsport area woman was struck by a truck at 11:55 a. m. today in the crosswalk at Court and Main Sts.

Driver of the truck was Bazel Melvin Wells, Route 2.

The accident was still under investigation at noon today.

Steubenville Shooting Eyed

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—"At this time, we can't state there has been any criminal act committed," said Jefferson County Prosecutor Domenick Olivito as authorities launched an investigation into the shooting death Thursday of a well-known Steubenville woman.

The victim, Mrs. Richard Stuppell, 44, wife of a plumbing contractor, was shot once with a .22-caliber rifle while she and her husband were alone at an isolated summer cottage on Austin Lake, north of there.

Authorities said Stuppell told them he and his wife were talking in the kitchen of the cottage when she became upset, grabbed a rifle and they struggled. Stuppell said the rifle fired during the struggle, authorities said.

Stolen Car, AWOL Men Found Here

A stolen auto has been recovered along with the apprehension of two soldiers absent without official leave by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Released to military personnel today were Gary Dean Hoffman, 18, of 170 Hayward Ave., and Frank F. Worgull, 17, Cleveland.

The two soldiers admitted taking a 1964 model auto from a housing project near their station at Fort Knox, Ky., and driving to the Pickaway County area.

The auto was discovered on the Williamsport - Chillicothe Road. It was not damaged, but the gasoline tank was empty.

Investigating the incident, prior to being reported to the FBI, was Deputy Charles Jones.

Stock Prices Show Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Electronics and other glamor stocks paced the stock market to a rally early this afternoon. Trading was the heaviest this week.

It was the week's first advance and followed four straight losses.

Color televisions were prominent among the electronics, some rising several points. These stocks were continuing their vigorous rebound of Thursday when their pyrotechnics were the big feature of a generally declining market. Airlines tagged along with the other glamor stocks, even though the labor picture still remained beleaguered.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 303.0 with industrials up 2.1, rails off .1 and utilities off .5. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.90 at 842.81.

Police Chief Robert Temple noted today he appreciated Wallace's consideration in "helping the department out" when they needed it.

Temple said the vacated post has already been filled by a local woman. The new desk officer will assume her duties next week, at which time an announcement will be made, the chief said.

News of World in Brief

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Lisa Witter, 13, can keep her pet duck Herman despite an ordinance banning such creatures—and complaints of some neighbors.

Raising a pet duck is not "raising livestock," said Michie.

WATERTOWN, Conn. (AP)—It wouldn't be summer without a shark scare—but 30 miles from the nearest salt water?

The shark in question is a nine-footer, owner unknown, that has been lying dead in a cornfield for several days.

MANILA (AP)—The allied forces have positive proof that North Vietnamese divisions had their headquarters in Cambodia territory, South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said today.

He admitted that American and Vietnamese planes may have bombed innocent villages in Cambodia.

"In wartime, no one can say they never make mistakes," he said.

Abandoned Auto Is Discovered

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department received a report Thursday of an auto that was found stripped of accessories and abandoned south of Darbyville.

The auto, a convertible, had been missing for about two weeks, according to the report. A check for the motor's serial number led officers to the original owner, a Bucyrus auto dealer. The vehicle was later transferred to a Columbus dealer, its present owner.

No clues as to who had stolen the vehicle had been uncovered at noon today.

Tools, Gasoline Reported Taken

Warner Hedges, Ashville, reported to the Pickaway County Sheriff's office Thursday that several tools had been stolen at his home, in addition to an undetermined amount of gasoline.

Hedges said he found a hack saw near a fuel storage tank and noticed that the lock had been removed. Tools missing from a box included an electric drill with 24 bits, a pair of pliers, a wrench, vise grips and other miscellaneous tools.

Beatle Says He's Sorry About Crack

CHICAGO (AP)—"I'm sorry, I'm sorry I said it really, I never meant it as a lousy, anti-religious thing," apologized Beatle John Lennon.

He attempted to explain Thursday night his remarks about Christianity, which set off boycotts and bonfires in the United States.

The main thing, Lennon said, is that he was misunderstood.

"I wasn't saying whatever they're saying I was saying," he told a news conference. "I was sort of deploring the attitude toward Christianity."

He added: "From what I've read or observed, it (Christianity) just seems to me to be shrinking, to be losing contact." Paul McCartney added: "And we all deplore the fact."

Lennon said he was "worried to death" about the controversy aroused by his statements that the Beatles "are more popular than Jesus" and that "Christianity will go."

Some U.S. radio stations have banned Beatle records since Lennon's remarks were published in an American teen magazine. Some former fans have built huge bonfires of Beatle records and pictures.

In England, Lennon said, his remarks caused hardly a ripple. "They were just taken as a bit of loudmouth thing," he said.

U.S. planes sighted only two missiles, compared with the heavier barrages the first two days of the week when 50 planes were lost. The Crusader shot down Thursday raised reported losses over North Viet Nam to 332 planes for the air war, the spokesman said.

The U.S. Command announced that 202 U.S. helicopters had been lost in combat in the south and three in the north, presumably on rescue missions to pick up American fliers. A spokesman said the losses did not include helicopters lost on the ground during guerrilla attacks.

The U.S. Coast Guard kept a guard around the battered 82-foot cutter Point Welcome, which docked in Da Nang after it was mistakenly strafed and rocketed by three U.S. Air Force planes before dawn Thursday.

The attack cost the lives of the commander, Lt. (j.g.) David Brostrom, 25, of San Jose, Calif., and another Coast Guardman and injured five men, including a British newsman.

Stuebenville Shooting Eyed

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—"At this time, we can't state there has been any criminal act committed," said Jefferson County Prosecutor Domenick Olivito as authorities launched an investigation into the shooting death Thursday of a well-known Steubenville woman.

The victim, Mrs. Richard Stupelli, 44, wife of a plumbing contractor, was shot once with a .22-caliber rifle while she and her husband were alone at an isolated summer cottage on Austin Lake, north of there.

Authorities said Stupelli told them he and his wife were talking in the kitchen of the cottage when she became upset, grabbed a rifle and they struggled. Stupelli said the rifle fired during the struggle, authorities said.

Stolen Car, AWOL Men Found Here

A stolen auto has been recovered along with the apprehension of two soldiers absent without official leave by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Released to military personnel today were Gary Dean Hoffman, 18, of 170 Hayward Ave., and Frank F. Worgull, 17, Cleveland.

The two soldiers admitted taking a 1964 model auto from a housing project near their station at Fort Knox, Ky., and driving to the Pickaway County area.

The auto was discovered on the Williamsport - Chillicothe Road. It was not damaged, but the gasoline tank was empty.

Investigating the incident, prior to being reported to the FBI, was Deputy Charles Jones.

Stock Prices Show Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Electronics and other glamor stocks paced the stock market to a rally early this afternoon. Trading was the heaviest this week.

It was the week's first advance and followed four straight losses.

Color televisions were prominent among the electronics, some rising several points. These stocks were continuing their vigorous rebound of Thursday when their pyrotechnics were the big feature of a generally declining market. Airlines tagged along with the other glamor stocks, even though the labor picture still remained clouded.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 303.0 with industrials up 2.1, rails off .1 and utilities off .5. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.90 at 842.81.

Desk Officer Resigns Post

Earl Wallace, 416 Lancaster Pike, has resigned his post with the Circleville Police Department.

Wallace, who worked as desk man on the day shift, assumed the city post several months ago on a temporary basis. He resigned to devote more time to his business, P & W Togs and Tack, 122 S. Court St.

Police Chief Robert Temple noted today he appreciated Wallace's consideration in "helping the department out" when they needed it.

Temple said the vacated post has already been filled by a local woman. The new desk officer will assume her duties next week, at which time an announcement will be made, the chief said.

News of World in Brief

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Lisa Witter, 13, can keep her pet duck Herman despite an ordinance banning such creatures—and complaints of some neighbors.

Daniel B. Michie Jr., the township solicitor, said Thursday night that the keeping of a single duck does not violate township ordinances or zoning regulations that prohibit the raising of livestock and poultry.

Raising a pet duck is not "raising livestock," said Michie.

WATERTOWN, Conn. (AP)—It wouldn't be summer without a shark scare—but 30 miles from the nearest salt water?

The shark in question is a nine-footer, owner unknown, that has been lying dead in a cornfield for several days.

Mrs. Robert Wookey, wife of the farm's owner, said today her husband hasn't been "too concerned about it," despite the increasing odor, because no one lives close enough to the field to be bothered.

MANILA (AP)—The allied forces have positive proof that North Vietnamese divisions had their headquarters in Cambodia territory, South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said today.

Speaking at a news conference, Ky said the proof came from prisoners and photo reconnaissance.

He admitted that American and Vietnamese planes may have bombed innocent villages in Cambodia.

"In wartime, no one can say they never make mistakes," he said.

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Luci Johnson Nugent and husband Pat attended a tea at Government House, the official residence of Sir Ralph Grey, the governor of the Bahamas Thursday.

The tea marked the first time the newlyweds have come out of their honeymoon hideaway since Sunday.

Earlier in the week newsmen failed to lure the couple from the $250,000 villa. Newsmen chipped in to buy 20 red roses in exchange for a brief interview and picture session, but the request was turned down.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee will open hearings Aug. 18 on proposals for a nonprofit satellite communications service.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., chairman of the Senate Commerce Communications subcommittee, made the announcement and said the hearings would continue through Aug. 23.

The Ford Foundation has proposed use of communications satellites to expand educational and cultural television exchanges. McGeorge Bundy, former White House aide and now foundation president, will be among the witnesses, Pastore said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has awarded three contracts to determine the feasibility of turning night into day by using gigantic sunlight-reflecting satellites.

The Defense Department is interested in possible use of such a mirror spacecraft to illuminate combat areas such as in Viet Nam.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—President Joaquin Balaguer said Thursday night he will ask Congress to "procure a real political truce" by restricting political activity until 1968.

Balaguer, whose administration has a majority in both houses, said the restriction was necessary for the nation's economic recuperation. In a 40-minute speech he said there were certain groups intent on "promoting agitation in the country." He did not identify them.

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the course of the United States in the Viet Nam war "seeks to avoid, if possible, a nuclear holocaust."

Humphrey made the statement Thursday night in a speech before more than 1,000 persons at the convention of the Disabled American Veterans. Departing from his text, Humphrey said:

"I have been with your President today. We had a Cabinet meeting. The needs of the armed forces and Gen. (William C.) Westmoreland in Viet Nam will be met. Friend and foe alike have to know that our country will meet those needs."

Beatle Says He's Sorry About Crack

CHICAGO (AP)—"I'm sorry, I'm sorry I said it really. I never meant it as a lousy, antireligious thing," apologized Beatle John Lennon.

He attempted to explain Thursday night his remarks about Christianity, which set off boycotts and bonfires in the United States.

The main thing, Lennon said, is that he was misunderstood.

"I wasn't saying whatever they're saying I was saying," he told a news conference. "I was sort of deploring the attitude toward Christianity."

He added: "From what I've read or observed, it (Christianity) just seems to me to be shrinking, to be losing contact."

Paul McCartney added: "And we all deplore the fact."

Lennon said he was "worried to death" about the controversy aroused by his statements that the Beatles "are more popular than Jesus" and that "Christianity will go."

Some U.S. radio stations have banned Beatle records since Lennon's remarks were published in an American teen magazine. Some former fans have built huge bonfires of Beatle records and pictures.

In England, Lennon said, his remarks caused hardly a ripple. "They were just taken as a bit of loudmouth thing," he said.

Woman, 23, Held For Killing Dad

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Cleveland Heights woman, who police said had undergone psychiatric treatment, has been charged with first-degree murder in the stabbing death of her father.

Miss Ann Lacey, 23, waived a preliminary hearing Thursday in Cleveland Heights Municipal Court and was bound to the grand jury. She was taken to county jail.

Her father, retired Cleveland lawyer George H. P. Lacey, 63, was fatally stabbed Thursday in the kitchen of their home police said.

of uselessness in a land where the writers felt they were not wanted.

About the only things the letters had in common were frequently misspelled words and erratic grammar.

Here, in letters to the President, is how some of the men viewed their reason for being in Viet Nam:

"I felt that the reason why I was sent here is to keep myself and the rest of our love ones free from Red China."

"Now I really know why Viet Nam. Why because if we don't stop Charley here he will be in our homes next."

"I realize that there is a job to be done over here or we'll all be living under the Communist government and I myself don't like their type of living."

But an Army lieutenant wrote Morse that U.S. force will not defeat communism in Viet Nam. "The cure, if there is one," he said, "lies not in more and better bombs, but in social, political and economic relationships."

"Anyone who has studied the situation has soon come to the realization that the United States has certainly made some serious mistakes in this endeavor. . . . It is reassuring to see yourself, Sen. (J. W.) Fulbright (D-Ark.) and others take the opposite approach."

And a GI claimed in a letter to Morse that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had started the war "to build up the U.S. economy." The soldier added that the war had backfired in McNamara's face.

But an Army master sergeant, alluding to a Johnson address at Omaha on June 30, wrote the President: "May the truth of your speech pierce the fog in the minds of the anti-Viet Nam groups."

Others told the President:

"There has been quite a bit of protest against the U.S. policy in Viet Nam. . . . The people, not knowing the true situation here, cannot really protest against the U.S. policy. . . . for this simple reason. They're too quick at assuming their own belief where they are right or wrong."

"As fighting men in Viet Nam, I feel we're the best informed in the world. We also can see the consequences of a pullout. In fact we're probably better informed than the majority of the demonstrators. We're needed here there's no doubt."

But a private first class wrote Morse:

"I've seen my buddies killed and wounded and the people we fight for don't give a damn. . . . The people here don't want us, just our money and for us to spend it. . . . Someone is making a profit of this war at our expense, I hope he sleeps at night."

Another soldier told the senator: "Everybody thinks the morale of the men is very high but this is not true. . . . On the outside to outsiders our morale does look high, but if you could sit around at night and listen you would know it is a entirely different story. . . . Most of the guys want to lay down their guns and go home just like the people in Saigon want us too."

Budget Director Charles L. Schultze said government spending, compared with the total of what the country produces, for the 1966-67 fiscal year is the lowest since 1948.

While the White House was focusing on these figures, the Senate and House were busy voting on measures that could pump billions into the economy in future spending.

The House voted approval of an $11.9 billion boost to the federal highway program after beating back a Republican drive to eliminate $493 million for highway beautification, a pet project of Mrs. Johnson.

The Senate passed a measure that would make available an additional $3 billion of government mortgage funds to the slumping home building industry. The measure is designed to ease the tight money market and provide easier credit for home buyers.

Senate Republicans, while voting for the measure, voiced their objection to the administration money policies which they said are directly to blame for high interest rates and "the inflation which is sweeping the country."

In a 20-page report, the Senate Republican Policy Committee said high interest is "a mark of his (Johnson's) administration."

It added, "President Johnson has taken no steps and shown little leadership in this critical situation except to urge everybody, particularly the housewives, to spend less money."

Business Briefs

G. C. Murphy Company net earnings for the first six months were $2,761,000, an increase over the $2,462,000 earned for the similar period of 1965. On a per share basis, the company reported 67 cents against 59 cents, an increase of 13.6 per cent. Sales for the period showed an increase of 7.3 per cent.

There were 514 stores in operation, including one in Circleville, and 25 new locations under contract at June 30, compared with 511 and 15 the year previous. During the period three stores were opened, two closed, four enlarged and 11 renovated.

Chicago Negro March Slated

'Hillbillies' File Brutality Protest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negro political leaders in Chicago have been urged to join the protests for open housing, including a march planned today into the racially sensitive Bogan area on the city's Southwest Side.

The call for more participation by Negro aldermen, committeemen and legislators and for the march — which had been postponed earlier in the week — came from Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in telegrams sent from Jackson, Miss., where he is ill with a virus.

The Rev. James Bevel, one of King's aides in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, told a Chicago rally Thursday night that at least 500 persons would be in the march today. And he said it would be held whether police protection was available or not.

Meanwhile, 100 white youths marched around a North Side Chicago police station Thursday night protesting alleged police brutality while a crowd of more than 500 persons watched.

The group, composed mostly of youthful Southern migrants was organized by the "Uptown Goodfellows," whose spokesman said, "this is the first time hillbillies have decided to let their power be felt. Most people don't understand we are kicked around as bad as Negroes and Puerto Ricans by police."

In Detroit, beefed-up police patrols watched a racially mixed East Side neighborhood where rock and fire-bomb throwing had erupted for three straight nights.

Ten Negroes were arrested Thursday night and a fire bomb was thrown into a beer and wine store, causing minor damage. But there were no other at-

Court Collects $10,391.85 during July

Circleville Municipal Court collected $10,391.85 in fines, court costs and bond forfeitures during July.

Total collections included $7,280.05 in fines and bond forfeitures while $3,111.80 was collected in court costs.

Disbursements of the city court collections was as follows. Circleville received $5,944.20; Pickaway County received, $2,393.20; $1,973.25 is due the Treasurer of State as 45 per cent of Highway Patrol fines; Pickaway County Sheriff, $21.20; Division of Wild Life, $60.

Criminal cases filed during July totaled 407 with disposition made of 372. All or part of the fines and costs were suspended in 24 cases at the court's discretion, which amounted to $724.75.

Ten civil cases were filed in the city court during the 31-day period, but only four were disposed of. The court also performed one marriage ceremony during July.

Budget Director Charles L. Schultze said government spending, compared with the total of what the country produces, for the 1966-67 fiscal year is the lowest since 1948.

While the White House was focusing on these figures, the Senate and House were busy voting on measures that could pump billions into the economy in future spending.

The House voted approval of an $11.9 billion boost to the federal highway program after beating back a Republican drive to eliminate $493 million for highway beautification, a pet project of Mrs. Johnson.

The Senate passed a measure that would make available an additional $3 billion of government mortgage funds to the slumping home building industry. The measure is designed to ease the tight money market and provide easier credit for home buyers.

Senate Republicans, while voting for the measure, voiced their objection to the administration money policies which they said are directly to blame for high interest rates and "the inflation which is sweeping the country."

In a 20-page report, the Senate Republican Policy Committee said high interest is "a mark of his (Johnson's) administration."

It added, "President Johnson has taken no steps and shown little leadership in this critical situation except to urge everybody, particularly the housewives, to spend less money."

Chicago Negro March Slated

'Hillbillies' File Brutality Protest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negro political leaders in Chicago have been urged to join the protests for open housing, including a march planned today into the racially sensitive Bogan area on the city's Southwest Side.

The call for more participation by Negro aldermen, committeemen and legislators and for the march — which had been postponed earlier in the week — came from Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in telegrams sent from Jackson, Miss., where he is ill with a virus.

The Rev. James Bevel, one of King's aides in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, told a Chicago rally Thursday night that at least 500 persons would be in the march today. And he said it would be held whether police protection was available or not.

Meanwhile, 100 white youths marched around a North Side Chicago police station Thursday night protesting alleged police brutality while a crowd of more than 500 persons watched.

The group, composed mostly of youthful Southern migrants was organized by the "Uptown Goodfellows," whose spokesman said, "this is the first time hillbillies have decided to let their power be felt. Most people don't understand we are kicked around as bad as Negroes and Puerto Ricans by police."

In Detroit, beefed-up police patrols watched a racially mixed East Side neighborhood where rock and fire-bomb throwing had erupted for three straight nights.

Ten Negroes were arrested Thursday night and a fire bomb was thrown into a beer and wine store, causing minor damage. But there were no other at-

Criminal cases filed during July totaled 407 with disposition made of 372. All or part of the fines and costs were suspended in 24 cases at the court's discretion, which amounted to $724.75.

Ten civil cases were filed in the city court during the 31-day period, but only four were disposed of. The court also performed one marriage ceremony during July.

One of the black marks against this form of taxation is one that may not involve large aggregate sums, but that appears when people who have lost much or all of their earning power decide that they do not want to lose a substantial part of the foresight and effort they have invested in real estate or other holdings.

Under the law, they cannot make deductions for such foresight and effort, which, in the American system of free enterprise, are of real value.

NEW YORK (AP) — School bells will peal next month for about a quarter of the American population?

So the wise student or teacher will start now boning up ahead of time on his double talk.

Whether one is entering kindergarten or conducting a post-graduate seminar, he will find nothing more useful than double talk. It is the indispensable tool of modern learning.

Campus gobbledygook has the same general purpose as the gobbledygook used in business or politics. It may employ different words, but it has the same basic goals: to gloss over profound ignorance with an air of profound wisdom, and to cover up what you're really thinking.

For the beginner, here are a few examples of campus double-talk followed by actual meanings:

"Our school system has no prejudice against hiring married women teachers, Mrs. Forlorn. The fact you have children of your own should make you even more valuable." And maybe you'll work for less than an unmarried teacher, won't you?

"This year, sir, I'm going to make every effort to be in the top half of my class." If I'm in the bottom half, the draft board will start breathing down my neck.

"This theory has the bankrupt charisma of an intellectual fraudulence whose obfuscating rhodomontade, I must say in conclusion, camouflages inadequately a postulate of pragmatic nonconformism which, in the ultimate analysis, presupposes an ambivalent..." The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal funds have hit a record high in cost. A relatively short time ago only banks knew what federal funds were, or cared. But now these overnight borrowings by one bank from another are hitting a $4-billion a day stride and they are widely watched.

They can be a tipoff on what it may cost you to buy a car or a house on time, or how tough the bank may be in granting a loan to a local business firm, or how much more will be charged for financing than new plant or new equipment.

In today's tight money market federal funds suddenly are pre-empting much of the role usually assigned to the Federal Reserve discount rate. Traditionally, the interest charge set by the Federal Reserve banks for money borrowed from them by member commercial banks set the base for most interest charges. These range upward from the prime rate banks charge their largest and most credit-worthy customers to the personal loans that finance a family's emergencies.

But now many banks are paying up to 6 per cent for federal funds rather than borrow from the Federal Reserve at the current discount rate of 4½ per cent, strange as this might seem at first glance. Furthermore, the discount rate is now so far below the interest costs of most borrowing to do business or handle the buying of a house or car or financing a vacation, that other measures of the money market are being watched more closely. And one that fluctuates daily often reflects the latest trends. That one is the once nebulous federal funds.

These are deposits of member banks with their district Federal Reserve Bank, in excess of legal reserve requirements. Since they earn no interest, these surplus deposits are readily available for loans to other banks—at the going rate of interest, and on an overnight basis. A bank which is temporarily short of funds to maintain its reserve will borrow from a bank with a surplus.

It will pay more for such a loan than for one from the Fed at 4½ per cent, because the Fed frowns on too much such borrowing. And the average daily trading volume this year of $4 billion might seem too much dipping into central bank resources.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My husband has been in more accidents than I care to remember. If it isn't at home, then it is in his factory or in our automobile. I know that he is a tense person. Could this be the reason?

Mrs. V. R., New Hampshire Dear Mrs. R.: The term accident - prone was once thought to be an amusing description of people who are constantly having accidents. It was Dr. Flanders Dunbar, one of the world's leading authorities on psychosomatic medicine, who brought into focus the sharp relationship between the emotions and accidents.

Later, insurance companies and statisticians found the truth that the personality makeup was an important cause in many of the accidents in the home and in industry.

When the lives of men and women were closely examined it was found that their inner emotions and conflicts were easily as responsible for accidents as were the external factors.

The susceptibility to accidents was distinctly traced to the stresses, strains and turbulence of daily living. The United States Army found that many of the casualties during training happened to young soldiers whose emotional stability was limited.

This idea has led to the wide use of many complicated psychological tests in industry, in the armed services, in schools and in deciding on a career. Important conclusions can be arrived at that save untold lives in predictable jobs.

Almost everyone has had the experience of driving an automobile with a jittery sensation after some unpleasantness. When you carry the remnant of anger or hostility the reflexes are not as rapid or as accurate, and undoubtedly can cause accidents that otherwise would not have happened.

When the mind is occupied with a serious problem the body coordination is never at its peak.

Ohio Prison Inmate Is Master at Puzzles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Inmates of Ohio Penitentiary call it "the puzzlin'est prison in the world."

A good part of the reputation depends on Gene Necker's prison puzzle-making, which he hopes will end three years from now.

Then, the 38-year-old inmate hopes, his skill as a wordsmith can earn him a living on the "outside." But for now, he must be satisfied as the most prolific crossword puzzle maker in "Pentown," perhaps in the country.

"I'm one of the busiest as far as output. But I don't make as much money as lots of guys on the outside," Necker says.

He sells puzzles—crosswords, cryptics and several types he has copyrighted—to companies that publish puzzle magazines. The going rate is $5 to $15 per puzzle for prisoners — a major source in the business—and up to $30 for outsiders, Necker explains.

It takes him from one hour to ten to compose a puzzle depending on the type and number of words.

His puzzles earned him $179.80 last month, about $900 last year. That kind of money looks good compared to the 8½ cents an hour he makes at his full-time job clerking in the prison tin shop.

"The magazine publishers tell us we turn out more puzzles than any place in the world," Necker said in defending the puzzlin'est prison" claim.

Warden Ernie Maxwell says a recent check of inmates' puzzle income showed it averages $1,200 a month. About 100 prisoners make puzzles but half of them are apprentices who haven't sold any yet, according to Necker.

Necker helps support his two children, now living in Indiana, and is saving money for them that he hopes they will use for college.

The slightly built Chicago native lived in Cincinnati before his latest change of address, in 1958. He started doing puzzles then "because I needed something to do. Most guys in here spend their free time playing cards or just gabbing."

He learned puzzle - making from the man Warden Maxwell calls the all-time king, former Ohio penitentiary lifer Art Kuhn.

"He was a nice old man, I think he's on the streets now somewhere in Kentucky, if he's still alive. He had about $50,000 in the bank when he left here," Necker says.

Many of Necker's puzzles are printed under his by-line. They include his copyrighted "Rubigrams" and "Racilographies."

The secret is to keep coming up with new definitions for word Necker says. Like his recent clue for the Watutse dance "loose caboose."

His puzzles help people with time to kill — like homebound commuters, convalescents and, of course, other prisoners. And, he says, "It keeps me out of trouble."

Necker was convicted in 1958 on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and aiding in an escape attempt at Marion Correctional Institution. He was on parole from Marion at the time.

He will be eligible for parole again in 1969.

Conservatives Keep Winning

By John Chamberlain

The self - styled "moderate" Republicans, who as often as not are characterized by the immorality with which they denounce their opponents, keep on contending that their supporters constitute the "mainstream" of Republicanism. But what they can't explain is why the "mainstream" isn't flowing through the voting booths in their direction in the primaries.

The latest set-back to the "moderates" occurred in Idaho, where three-time Governor Robert E. Smylie was unceremoniously dumped in the primary by a conservative, State Senator Don Samuelson, by an unexpectedly wide margin. Smylie had gone out of his way to dramatize himself as a "mainstream" figure who, as chairman of the Republican Governors' Association, was especially interested in driving conservative types out of such supporting party organizations as the Young Republicans and the Republican Women's Federation. In pursuing his aims he had made common cause with Pennsylvania Senator Hugh Scott.

Smylie's own candidate for co-chairman of the Young Republicans, Mrs. Hope Kading of Idaho, made an unsuccessful attempt to defeat the conservative Jill Dover at the 1965 YR convention at Miami Beach. Unable to win control of the YR organization by getting a majority of the votes, Mrs. Kading turned, rather immoderately, to making charges that the Young Republicans were infested by "Rat Finks" who, in New Jersey, were going about singing pro-Nazi and anti-Semitic songs. The leader of the so-called "Rat Finks," young Richard Plechner of Metuchen, New Jersey, who happens to be partly Jewish, has sworn to high heaven that no responsible member of his organization had anything to do with the songs in question. After listening last winter to Mr. Plechner tell his rather agonized story, this columnist was convinced that the allegation of collective "Rat Fink" guilt was a complete phony. At the very least nothing had been proved that reflected on the character of Plechner or any other New Jersey YR leader. But Senator Scott and Governor Smylie persisted in pushing the attack on the "young hellions" of the YR.

Well, the vote in the Idaho primary may be taken as an indication that western Republicans aren't interested in pushing vendettas against conservatives either inside the YR or outside. The Republican tide, in virtually all states west of the Alleghenies and south of the Potomac, continues to flow in a conservative direction. Ronald Reagan's feat in polling 400,000 more votes in the California Republican primaries than Governor Pat Brown managed to garner from the Democrats is, on the basis of the Idaho vote, merely part of a general groundswell. If the so-called "liberal" Republicans of the metropolitan Northeast aren't careful, they will find themselves increasingly isolated in their own party.

Fortunately for the cause of true Republican moderation as against the intemperate brand of "moderation" expressed by Governor Smylie, certain Republican candidates who are claimed by the "liberals" are actually intelligent pragmatists who will certainly take heed of the vote in the California and Idaho primaries. State Liquor Agency Plans Vast Change

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Sweeping change" in the handling of liquor permit applications was announced by Liquor Director Donald D. Cook Thursday.

He said all of the more than 40,000 permits in the state will expire Oct. 1 this year, and every year in the future, due to change in the liquor laws enacted by the last session of the General Assembly.

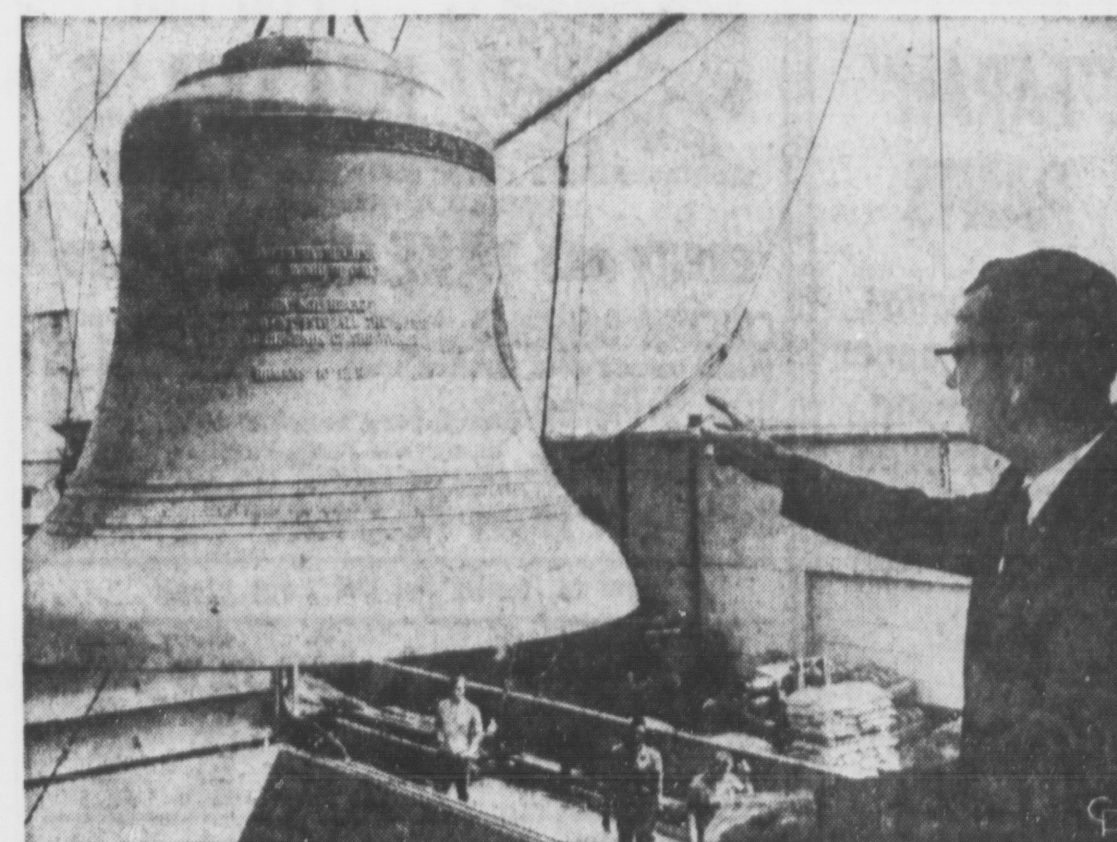

His department proposed the change, Cook, said, to create "greater efficiency" and to eliminate some of the hardships worked on businessmen by the former system, which caused some late filing of applications, and penalties and problems connected with them.

In a letter mailed to the 23,000 permit holders today, Cook urged their cooperation in instituting the new program.

He asked the holders to file their applications as soon as possible after they are received. He said they would reduce the possibilities of last-minute errors and would allow the holder time to make any corrections or changes which might be required.

"AN IMPRESSIVE TITLE," writes Gerald Carson, in "The Polite Americans," "is part of the art of officemanship in Big Business today. A plain vice-president often outranks a fancy one; indeed a designation like 'vice-president for Special Assignments' may well indicate that the holder is, in the argot of the management world 'being ceilinged out' or 'headed for the boneyard.'"

An American landed by jet in Madrid for his first trip outside the U.S.A. and went for dinner to the exclusive restaurant recommended by the travel guide. The bill was a lot bigger than he had been led to expect, so he asked the waiter if the total included the service charge he had heard about. "Yes, sir, it does," the waiter assured him, but then, noticing the tourist's confusion, quickly added, "But not the tip."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My husband has been in more accidents than I care to remember. If it isn't at home, then it is in his factory or in our automobile. I know that he is a tense person. Could this be the reason?

Mrs. V. R., New Hampshire
Dear Mrs. R.: The term accident-prone was once thought to be an amusing description of people who are constantly having accidents. It was Dr. Flanders Dunbar, one of the world's leading authorities on psychosomatic medicine, who brought into focus the sharp relationship between the emotions and accidents.

Later, insurance companies and statisticians found the truth that the personality makeup was an important cause in many of the accidents in the home and in industry.

When the lives of men and women were closely examined it was found that their inner emotions and conflicts were easily as responsible for accidents as were the external factors.

The susceptibility to accidents was distinctly traced to the stresses, strains and turbulence of daily living. The United States Army found that many of the casualties during training happened to young soldiers whose emotional stability was limited.

This idea has led to the wide use of many complicated psychological tests in industry, in the armed services, in schools and in deciding on a career. Important conclusions can be arrived at that save untold lives in predictable jobs.

Almost everyone has had the experience of driving an automobile with a jittery sensation after some unpleasantness. When you carry the remnant of anger or hostility the reflexes are not as rapid or as accurate, and undoubtedly can cause accidents that otherwise would not have happened.

When the mind is occupied with a serious problem the body coordination is never at its peak.

Skilled workers using lathes, saws and drill presses were found to have a tremendous increase in accidents during a time when there was some family illness. When the emotional balance is disturbed the physical balance is changed.

Dr. Dunbar called attention to the fact that accident-prone people used accident phrases more often than others. She called attention to expressions like: "I'd rather have a broken leg than have this happen"; "I nearly broke my neck to catch the train"; "I almost broke my back getting the work done." She felt that these phrases had more meaning than was obvious.

Now, when physicians come across a person who has repeated accidents and even illnesses they view them with a special "psychosomatic attitude." Doctors know that there is no separation of the mind and body. There is only the total person who is considered.

Your husband has been fortunate that he has had only minor accidents. If he continues without a better understanding of the reasons for them he will be a threat to himself and the people who surround him. It is no shame for him to speak out the inner emotional problems to his doctor.

Ohio Prison Inmate Is Master at Puzzles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Inmates of Ohio Penitentiary call it "the puzzlin'est prison in the world."

A good part of the reputation depends on Gene Necker's prison puzzle-making, which he hopes will end three years from now.

Then, the 38-year-old inmate hopes, his skill as a wordsmith can earn him a living on the "outside." But for now, he must be satisfied as the most prolific crossword puzzle maker in "Pentown," perhaps in the country.

"I'm one of the busiest as far as output. But I don't make as much money as lots of guys on the outside," Necker says.

He sells puzzles—crosswords, cryptics and several types he has copyrighted—to companies that publish puzzle magazines. The going rate is $5 to $15 per puzzle for prisoners—a major source in the business—and up to $30 for outsiders, Necker explains.

It takes him from one hour to ten to compose a puzzle depending on the type and number of words.

His puzzles earned him $179.80 last month, about $900 last year. That kind of money looks good compared to the 8½ cents an hour he makes at his full-time job clerking in the prison tin shop.

"The magazine publishers tell us we turn out more puzzles than any place in the world," Necker said in defending the puzzlin'est prison" claim.

Warden Ernie Maxwell says a recent check of inmates' puzzle income showed it averages $1,200 a month. About 100 prisoners make puzzles but half of them are apprentices who haven't sold any yet, according to Necker.

Necker helps support his two children, now living in Indiana, and is saving money for them that he hopes they will use for college.

The slightly built Chicago native lived in Cincinnati before his latest change of address, in 1958. He started doing puzzles then "because I needed something to do. Most guys in here spend their free time playing cards or just gabbing."

He learned puzzle - making from the man Warden Maxwell calls the all-time king, former Ohio penitentiary lifer Art Kuhn.

"He was a nice old man. I think he's on the streets now somewhere in Kentucky, if he's still alive. He had about $50,000 in the bank when he left here," Necker says.

Many of Necker's puzzles are printed under his by-line. They include his copyrighted "Rubigrams" and "Raclographies."

The secret is to keep coming up with new definitions for words Necker says. Like his recent clue for the Watouise dance "loosie caboose."

His puzzles help people with time to kill — like homebound commuters, convalescents and, of course, other prisoners. And, he says, "It keeps me out of trouble."

Necker was convicted in 1958 on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and aiding in an escape attempt at Marion Correctional Institution. He was on parole from Marion at the time.

He will be eligible for parole again in 1969.

Conservatives Keep Winning

By John Chamberlain

The self - styled "moderate" Republicans, who as often as not are characterized by the immorality with which they denounce their opponents, keep on contending that their supporters constitute the "mainstream" of Republicanism. But what they can't explain is why the "mainstream" isn't flowing through the voting booths in their direction in the primaries.

The latest set-back to the "moderates" occurred in Idaho, where three-time Governor Robert E. Smylie was unceremoniously dumped in the primary by a conservative, State Senator Don Samuelson, by an unexpectedly wide margin. Smylie had gone out of his way to dramatize himself as a "mainstream" figure who, as chairman of the Republican Governors' Association, was especially interested in driving conservative types out of such supporting party organizations as the Young Republicans and the Republican Women's Federation. In pursuing his aims he had made common cause with Pennsylvania Senator Hugh Scott.

Smylie's own candidate for co-chairman of the Young Republicans, Mrs. Hope Kading of Idaho, made an unsuccessful attempt to defeat the conservative Jill Dover at the 1965 YR convention at Miami Beach. Unable to win control of the YR organization by getting a majority of the votes, Mrs. Kading turned, rather immoderately, to making charges that the Young Republicans were infested by "Rat Finks" who, in New Jersey, were going about singing pro-Nazi and anti-Semitic songs. The leader of the so-called "Rat Finks," young Richard Plechner of Metuchen, New Jersey, who happens to be partly Jewish, has sworn to high heaven that no responsible member of his organization had anything to do with the songs in question. After listening last winter to Mr. Plechner tell his agonized story, this columnist was convinced that the allegation of collective "Rat Fink" guilt was a complete phony. At the very least nothing had been proved that reflected on the character of Plechner or any other New Jersey YR leader. But Senator Scott and Governor Smylie persisted in pushing the attack on the "young hellions" of the YR.

Well, the vote in the Idaho primary may be taken as an indication that western Republicans aren't interested in pushing vendettas against conservatives either inside the YR or outside. The Republican tide, in virtually all states west of the Alleghenies and south of the Potomac, continues to flow in a conservative direction. Ronald Reagan's feat in polling 400,000 more votes in the California Republican primaries than Governor Pat Brown managed to garner from the Democrats is, on the basis of the Idaho vote, merely part of a general groundswell. If the so-called "liberal" Republicans of the metropolitan Northeast aren't careful, they will find themselves increasingly isolated in their own party.

Fortunately for the cause of true Republican moderation as against the intemperate brand of "moderation" expressed by Governor Smylie, certain Republican candidates who are claimed by the "liberals" are actually intelligent pragmatists who will certainly take heed of the vote in the California and Idaho primaries. Former Vice President Richard Nixon, upholds a staunchly American foreign policy and is far from a Leftist when it comes to internal economic matters. Michigan's Governor George Romney is a strict believer in the "consumerism" that was made popular by the first Henry Ford, who pioneered the economics of high wages, low prices and real competition. As front-runners in the race for the 1968 presidential nomination, Nixon and Romney are not exactly going against the conservative tide that has pushed California's Reagan and Idaho's Don Samuelson into their contemporary prominence. Romney, in Michigan, gets rather wholehearted conservative support; his problem, nationally, is to become something more than the candidate favored by Governor Rockefeller of New York State.

With all the little disaffections (strikes, the high cost of living, the failure of anti-poverty programs, violence in the slums, the disappearance of investment capital, the collapse of the housing industry, and the uncertainties of the Vietnamese War) combining to plague the Democrats, 1966 could be a Republican year. And, since the Republican primary winners are more conservative than not, November could offer a test of conservatism as well as Republicanism.

State Liquor Agency Plans Vast Change

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Sweeping change" in the handling of liquor permit applications was announced by Liquor Director Donald D. Cook Thursday.

He said all of the more than 40,000 permits in the state will expire Oct. 1 this year, and every year in the future, due to change in the liquor laws enacted by the last session of the General Assembly.

His department proposed the change, Cook, said, to create "greater efficiency" and to eliminate some of the hardships worked on businessmen by the former system, which caused some late filing of applications, and penalties and problems connected with them.

In a letter mailed to the 23,000 permit holders today, Cook urged their cooperation in instituting the new program.

He asked the holders to file their applications as soon as possible after they are received. He said they would reduce the possibilities of last-minute errors and would allow the holder time to make any corrections or changes which might be required.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — At this moment in history there is nothing truly clear about the war in Viet Nam, neither how long it will last nor how many men will be needed to win it.

Now there are about 290,000 American troops in South Viet Nam with about 400,000 expected there by the end of the year. Studies reportedly decided the war would last another five years if there were 750,000 Americans there, eight years if there were only 500,000.

But U.S. officials say (A) there is no way to predict how long the war will last, (B) that no such studies exist in the Defense Department and (C) there is no evidence to support such conclusions.

So that leaves the whole question of when up in the air insofar as how many men are needed to end the fighting.

Within the past week Secretary of State Dean Rusk played the same old record over: that the United States has tried in every way to get peace talks going but the North Vietnamese Communists won't listen or have any part of them.

Then this week at a news conference President Johnson talked about American peace efforts but he didn't have anything new to add, either.

"We have made clear during two pauses," he said, during visits of emissaries "to more than 40 countries, in communications with over 100 nations, that we were willing to sit down at any time, any place, and discuss anything that had a reasonable chance of producing a settlement. We still stand ready to do that."

And that, for the week, was all the news on the prospects for peace.

Actually, this past year may have been only a kind of stabilization period to lay a solid foundation for a competent kind of war. If so, then what lies ahead may be a lot more ferocious than anything seen yet.

In this past year South Viet Nam has been shaken, shattered and ruptured by Buddhist protests and upheavals of such wildness and wilfulness as to make many Americans at home wonder why we were bothering at all.

It took time, patience and perhaps even the political maturing of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky to smash and subdue the Buddhists until South Viet Nam presented something that looked like a united front beside the American effort.

Now that the front has been established, and turmoil in its rear eliminated, the American force can plan and proceed.

Johnson created excitement when he permitted the bombing of the oil depots in North Viet Nam. Ky created even more excitement when he suggested the only way to keep the war from being endless was to invade North Viet Nam.

It should be no surprise if, in the end, this is done or if there is some big climax since the North Vietnamese have long been infiltrating into the south. Invading the north has a basic danger, of course.

American intruding into North Viet Nam on foot might bring Red China into the conflict on the side of North Viet Nam.

But before such an American invasion — or some other climax — began, there undoubtedly would be a number of incidents, excitements and debates leading up to it, thus stirring up the public mind at home and preparing it for what might lie ahead.

It's doubtful this country will want to go on 5 or 10 years fighting a grisly, dirty land war in the jungles of South Viet Nam with American casualties mounting by the thousands in killed and wounded year by year.

State's Fat Surplus May Shrink Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — General fund revenues for the first month of the new book-keeping year indicate a $28.5 million state surplus may shrink by the end of the biennium next June 30.

"Our surplus may be less at the end of the second year unless the unprecedented revenues continue this year," Finance Director Richard Krabach said.

He has said previously the state will end the current biennium without a deficit and without increased taxes.

Krabach and other state officials declined to predict revenues for the year on the basis of one month's figures. They concede that higher state spending this year and an apparent lessening of the rate of sales tax collections might eat into the surplus accumulated over three previous fiscal years.

Sales taxes, the major source of income for the general fund, were up in July. But the monthly rate of increase was less. Sales and use taxes this July were 4 per cent higher than for July of 1965. Those taxes in June were 6.6 per cent above the same month a year ago.

In July of 1965, sales taxes were 8.5 per cent higher than they had been in June. This year, the July taxes were up 5.7 per cent above June.

Last year, general fund revenue was $45.5 million over estimates. Overall, the state ended with an $11.1 million surplus for the year. That surplus, added to $17.4 million accumulated earlier, provided the $28.5 million cushion which state officials announced was on hand at the start of the new fiscal year.

At the end of July, the first month of the new fiscal year, the surplus totaled $37.4 million. But that figure was temporarily inflated in part by the addition of $6 million in federal funds which were put into the general fund for the first time in July.

The last legislature appropriated $1,610,100,000 for the two-year period ending next June 30. Total revenue for the general fund during that period was estimated at $1,612,700,000, including the extra $45 million for the two-year period.

The $17.4 million surplus on hand when the biennium started and the excess from the two-year period then would total about $20 million.

Chicago Police Boss Says Luther King Stirs Hatred

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King's civil rights tactics have aroused hatred among some Chicago white residents and have hampered the Negro's progress, Police Supt. O. W. Wilson says.

"Inadvertently, he (King) has created hatreds which are to the disadvantage of the Negro population," Wilson said in an interview Thursday, and added:

"I can't see how King has helped the drive for civil rights in Chicago. To the extent he has stirred up hatreds he has hampered it."

Wilson's comments were promptly contested by King's aides, who said that hatreds had been brought to the surface rather than created.

"The Negro population was somewhat satisfied with the progress being made in solving problems before King came to town," Wilson said, and added:

"The solution to these problems will not be enhanced by stirring up hatred."

"The orderly process of government is better than demonstrating. The problems are not resolved at the snap of a finger. I think Chicago had taken great strides in dealing with the problems long before King came to Chicago."

When asked if he thinks King should have made Chicago his first Northern target for his nonviolent theory of gaining civil rights, Wilson responded: "Speaking as police superintendent, I wish he hadn't come."

Wilson referred to demonstrations in all-white Chicago neighborhoods the last three weeks in which King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) has demanded open housing for Negroes.

Several demonstrations have been met with violence by angry white residents who say their property values will be decreased if Negroes move in.

In Jackson, Miss., an aide to King took issue with Wilson's remarks. King was ill with a virus and unavailable for comment.

"When you're sitting on top as police superintendent on a $30,000-a-year job, you can afford to wait four or five years while orderly processes of government make their case," said the Rev. Andrew Young, executive secretary of the SCLC.

"But when you're living in a crowded tenement on less than $3,000 a year and humiliated by case workers and generally insulted by policemen assigned to protect you, four or five years means almost a destruction of an entire generation," Young said, and added:

"Mr. Wilson's policemen have done a magnificent job in protecting the demonstrators. I have a great deal of respect for him as a law enforcement officer."

"But his understanding as a social scientist of some of the forces which operate within the city — I would have to raise questions about."

"It's his weaknesses at the level of human understanding which have created so many problems in Chicago."

"We have not stirred up hatred. We have brought out into the open hatred which has been below the surface for many, many years — hatred and ignorance."

"I wish they could convince Chicago police to just stop using profanity and to use courtesy titles in making arrests. Make the policemen dedicated public servants rather than bullies."

Southern Negro Colleges Getting Boost

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — About 150 students from some of the country's best graduate schools are taking part in a summer program aimed at bringing small, Southern Negro colleges into America's mainstream of education. These young men and women, mostly future college teachers, are taking part in the Southern Teaching Program (STP), a movement begun two years ago at Yale.

At that time a group of Yale Law School students decided to assist small, predominantly Negro colleges acquire first-rate faculties.

"Many Southern Negro colleges are so far out of the main stream they don't know how to recruit good teachers," says Fred Schulze, the program's executive director.

Begun on a volunteer basis with graduate students accepting as little as $50 for a summer's work, the program has evolved into a combination placement service for graduate students who want to teach and a clearinghouse of qualified teachers for small, less privileged schools.

Now, instead of token salaries, teachers placed by STP are paid the same as any teacher with a similar background.

Schulze said that although the program had more teachers, the number of colleges being assisted had declined.

He says this was because more school knew how to recruit qualified teachers.

"One of the many values of the program," said Schulze, "is that it is bringing Negro college into the regular academic life. Our people keep them in touch with what is happening at the larger Northern schools."

News of the program and its goals has spread, mainly by word of mouth, to graduate schools throughout the country. "The result," said Schulze, "is that now graduate students from better colleges and universities are thinking about eventually teaching full time at schools which would ordinarily be overlooked."

Schulze, 27, first became interested in the program after spending a year teaching Russian at Bishop College, a small, Negro Baptist school in Dallas.

Schulze, a native of Philadelphia, was on a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. He was assigned to Bishop after receiving his master's degree from Columbia University.

"When I returned home from Dallas, I received a call from New Haven, and it was suggested that I work full time for the STP, which was, at that time, being organized on a permanent basis," says Schulze.

Until then the program had no full time help. The original handful of Yale students had grown to 53 graduate and professional school students from several schools. They were teaching at 13 Southern institutions.

With Schulze spending most of his time on the program, it has become a professionally run, endowed organization.

In 1965 it grew to 145 teachers from more than a dozen schools teaching in 27 colleges.

The program receives free office space and use of office machines at Yale and money for operational expenses from the Carnegie Corp., the Fund for the Advancement of Education and the New World Foundation.

During summer sessions the STP instructors help the host colleges by freeing the regular faculty to attend summer institutes, work toward advance degrees, or teach smaller classes.

With the summer session over, some STP worker stay on a regular faculty members.

With almost no exceptions, Schulze says, the responses to the STP instructors have been enthusiastic.

Before a graduate student is assigned to a school, he fills out a questionnaire, telling the STP about his background, personality and beliefs, to be used in placing him.

"We try to match the teacher with the school," says Schulze. "You can imagine the effect an enthusiastic young atheist would have on a fundamentalist Baptist campus."

"Although the movement sprang from the civil rights feelings of 1964, we are trying to expand the movement to include all small colleges which have been neglected. It just so happens that most of these colleges are in the South."

Schulze says STP hopes that eventually all colleges will be brought into the educational mainstream. He finds it encouraging that the number of colleges needing the assistance of STP is declining.

"With any luck at all," he says, "we'll eventually go out of business."

Why do some people traditionally choose August to buy their new Chevrolet?

Malibu Sport Coupe and Malibu 4-Door Station Wagon. Both with 8 standard safety features.

To save money and, quite often, lots of it.

They know that prices will never be better at their Chevrolet dealer's than they are in August. They know their present cars will never be worth more in trade than they are right now. And they know a good value when they see one, like a Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe—the most popular model of America's most popular mid-size car. It comes with thick foam-cushioned seats, deep-twist carpeting, vinyl up one door and down the other, padded instrument panel and sun visors for added safety. And all those Body by Fisher niceties sit solidly over some of the surest handling features a car can have: Ball-Race steering. Full Coil suspension. Wide-stance wheel design for steady cornering. So you see, "Chevrolet in August" makes a lot of sense. Fine cars. Exceptionally good buys and all those beautiful driving days left. Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

There's Safety in Numbers

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were married six months ago, and two months later he was drafted and stationed in California. We had gone steady since high school so naturally I assumed that I was the only girl in his life.

Yesterday, while cleaning out our car, I found a little black book full of girls' names and addresses. Should I let him know about this, or should I forget about it?

SICK AT HEART

DEAR SICK: If it's going to bother you, and apparently it is, ask your husband to explain it. I wouldn't worry about it if I were you.

There's safety in numbers. Besides, if a name and number meant anything to a man, he'd have them tattooed on his brain.

DEAR ABBY: My son, Nick, is marrying a girl I'll call Joan soon. Joan wants Flo to stand up for her. Nick doesn't like Flo because while he was away in service, Joan started drinking and smoking and running wild, and it was Flo who got her started on this path. When Nick got home, Joan cried, said she was sorry, still loved him, and has promised to behave so they went ahead with their plans to marry.

Nick told Joan he doesn't want Flo in the wedding party. Joan says it's her wedding and Flo is her best friend and she wants her. Nick says it's HIS wedding, too, and he doesn't want Flo's picture in his wedding album to remind him all his life of the trouble she caused. Who is right? Doesn't my son have something to say about this?

NICK'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your son should have something to say about it, but if he isn't saying it loudly enough to be heard, that's his problem. Perhaps Nick is putting all the blame on Flo when Joan is partly responsible.

But regardless, if Flo is in the wedding party against Nick's wishes, he and Joan will be starting down the aisle on the wrong foot. But this is strictly his battle. And no one else should fight it for him.

DEAR ABBY: What is a father supposed to do when his 17-year-old daughter insists on going with a boy he doesn't like or trust? For two years I have fought with both my wife and daughter over this kid. And I mean fought. I am about ready to move out of the house. I simply cannot stand the sight of him or the sound of his name.

He has bragged all over about how much he gets away with, and I just don't trust him. I trust our daughter, but not him. He has caused her to lie to her mother and me, too. Don't advise talking to our pastor. I tried that a drew a blank.

AT SWORD'S POINT

DEAR AT: If you can prove that your charges against the boy are valid, surely your wife, who is equally interested in your daughter's welfare would support you.

Something is cockeyed here. Either you dislike the boy without good reason, or your wife and daughter are a pair of nit-wits.

An Efficient Kitchen Means Work Decrease

By ELEANOR ROSS

There's much more to planning a good, workable kitchen than just placing the major appliances. Talk to a kitchen consultant and you will see that this becomes only too apparent. No kitchen can be beautiful unless it is efficient, no matter how sparkling the color scheme and decor.

But an efficient kitchen can be given an aura of beauty with very little effort. Steel requires less care than any other material. It is ideal for the kitchen for both efficiency and appearance. The kitchen consultant we consulted specifies steel cabinets for storage—both the wall-hanging and standing models—since steel does not warp or crack, and dirt or spills can be wiped off in seconds. Standard steel kitchen cabinets comes in a huge selection of shape and sizes. Several new finishes—plastic or wood grain—complement any decor.

According to researchers—not to mention every home-maker—the sink, the stove, refrigerator and mix center occupy, in that order, the work areas most frequently used. Now where should these centers be placed for economy of labor?

Our expert notes that most trips are made between the sink and the range, so these fixtures should be placed close together.

The heaviest, largest traffic lane is between the mix center and the sink.

So the sink should be placed first, and then the mix center and range set conveniently near, perhaps one on either side. If you are remodeling, our expert suggests leaving the sink as is and shifting the other pieces.

In order of efficiency, the U-shaped kitchen is considered ideal for it is the best time-saver. Here the sink is at the bottom of the U, the mix center at right angles to it on one side, and the range at right angles on the other.

Then comes the L-shaped kitchen, according to our kitchen consultant. Here the sink and mix centers are on one wall and the stove on the other.

Next is the "strip" kitchen with all three centers along one wall.

A study conducted by Purdue University compared the three basic arrangements. In preparing a meal for four people, the U-shaped kitchen required the fewest feet of travel—about 450. The job also took the least time.

Once you have placed your work centers for greatest efficiency, then comes the beauty part.

Try a clear pink on walls and cabinets and accent it with a strong orange on the area between the cabinets and the work surface areas. Trim on the window and door frames and any moldings should be pure white from the paint bucket. John T. Hamon, our kitchen consultant and decorator, advises us to try a combination PALE BLUE — Drawer-lining paper with aqua fleur de lis design is not only decorative but delightfully scented, too. You can add a subtle scenting to lingerie and accessories by lining the drawer in which you store them with special paper that pleases both eyes and nose. Its fragrance whispers its presence, but never overwhelms.

Jeep as Reliable in Viet As It Was in Iwo Jima

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A military tool dating from World War II is as useful in Viet Nam as it was in the sands of Iwo Jima.

While airplanes, guns and most other hardware of war have changed from the great conflict of the 1940s to the battles of Viet Nam, the military jeep has remained basically the same.

The 294 jeeps shipped this week from Toledo to Viet Nam look much the same as the very first model rolled out here in 1940.

But "it isn't the same World War II model," a spokesman for the manufacturer (Kaiser Jeep Co.) said. "It's been improved."

Most of the improvements have left the basic look unchanged. Even the jeep spokesman couldn't tell from a photograph which of the four basic military models were in the picture.

Production of the jeep began in 1941, except for a few produced by another automaker during World War II, all American military jeeps have come from the Toledo plant where the quarter-ton general purpose (GP) became "jeep" vehicle was designed and tested.

The jeep was intended as a of turquoise, lemon yellow and deep mustard.

A white ceiling is favored, whatever the color combination, because it opens up a room. And a semi-gloss paint is desirable because it survives steam and frequent washings better than flat paint.

For a final fillup, add a few sparkling accessories. And don't forget a good-looking clock, one that is sizable enough so it can be read.

You and your family in your new kitchen will then be able to keep up easily with the times.

Prof Says Vigilante Crew May Trim Highway Toll

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Xavier University psychiatrist thinks one way to cut down the number of traffic accidents would be to put vigilantes on the highways.

Earl J. Kronenberger told a policemen to keep drivers on their toes," he said. "If you could compute the ratio of policemen to miles of road and allow a certain amount of time for ticket writing, you would realize that the chance of being caught in a traffic violation is very slight."

"This, in effect, is just what the driver does. He feels it's worth the gamble to cut lanes, pass on curves, step down a little harder on the gas pedal."

The vigilantes Kronenberger has in mind could be recruited from among drivers with exceptional records and license numbers. They would have no authority to issue tickets, but the violators would receive a letter saying they had been observed.

Drivers who repeatedly committed violations might be penalized—or the authorities could just notify their insurance companies which would then raise their rates.

In any case, Kronenberger said, the knowledge that somebody is watching would make drivers more careful to obey traffic laws.

There's Safety in Numbers

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were married six months ago, and two months later he was drafted and stationed in California. We had gone steady since high school so naturally I assumed that I was the only girl in his life.

Yesterday, while cleaning out our car, I found a little black book full of girls' names and addresses. Should I let him know about this, or should I forget about it?

DEAR SICK: If it's going to bother you, and apparently it is, ask your husband to explain it. I wouldn't worry about it if I were you.

There's safety in numbers. Besides, if a name and number meant anything to a man, he'd have them tattooed on his brain.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Friday, Aug. 12, the 224th day of 1966. There are 141 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1676, King Philip, one of the greatest Indian chiefs who created the first real organized resistance to white settlers, was trapped and shot to death near Turners Falls, Mass.

In 1891, American poet, editor and diplomat James Russell Lowell, died.

In 1898, U.S. forces entered the Spanish-held Philippines city of Manila.

In 1914, Great Britain declared war on Austria-Hungary. In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill met at sea to draft the Atlantic Charter.

In 1944, Allied forces liberated Florence, Italy.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles emphasized in a meeting with congressional leaders their hope for a peaceful solution of the Suez Canal crisis.

Five years ago — Defense officials in Washington were reported concerned about the nation's military program for the Berlin crisis.

One year ago — Crowds of up to 5,000 Negroes rioted in the south Los Angeles area of Watts.

Unusual Political Calm Felt in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A period of unusual political calm, only a month in advance of elections for a constitutional assembly, is encouraging hopes in Saigon that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky means to launch the nation on a democratic path which could profoundly change the whole course of the Viet Nam war.

There are many, however, who have doubts and reservations, as the time nears for voting to set up a 117-member assembly that will write a constitution for this war-weary country.

The campaign for the Sept. 11 elections begins officially Aug. 26. Candidates include such respected figures as the former chief of state, Phan Khac Suu, and the outspoken, independent doctor, Phan Quan Dan. Both were jailed during the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

There are also political unknowns in the lists, persons such as Vuong Son Thong, once personal photographer to Emperor Bao Dai. Thong, a Roman Catholic, is running in the mountain province of Quang Duc, where his knowledge of the local Montagnard language will be more help than his association with Viet Nam's last emperor.

The object of these elections is simply to set up an assembly which will produce a constitution. The elections are not designed to oust the military from government life. After the assembly writes the charter, it can be amended by the chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, although amendments can be overridden by a two-thirds vote of the assembly. Thieu must promulgate the constitution 30 days after it is completed.

Since formal campaigning is not yet permitted, the election has failed to stir much interest, but Vietnamese officials say they are confident the enthusiasm will come. They point to the angry denunciations now pouring from Communist radios as an indication of enemy fear that the elections will have strong popular appeal.

Communist propaganda and Viet Cong terror threats can hold down voter turnout. The Viet Cong hold virtual control in areas where about 25 per cent of the people live. The Viet Cong have called for a boycott of the election.

Another threatened boycott, however, is discounted on all sides. This threat came from radical Buddhists, who claim they have a following of about 1.5 million of the nation's 15 million people. They seem divided and disillusioned after being dispersed by Premier Ky's skillful politics and tough police action. Their nominal leader, Thich Tam Chau, is on a foreign tour which will keep him away until the voting is over. The fiery monk who was the real leader, Thich Tri Quang, has been fasting in protest, and largely ignored, in a Saigon hospital.

The titular chief of the radical Buddhists now is Thich Phap Tri. He is courting Father Hoang Quynh, the lone-wolf Catholic priest who has organized splinter elements into a small, frail opposition coalition whose members also say they will boycott the elections.

"The people will vote, whether Father Quynh or Tam Chau or Tri Quang like it or not," said a ranking Saigon intellectual. "The people will vote because they want to vote."

The constitution to be written by the prospective assembly almost certainly will outline a strong presidential-type government, which Premier Ky is known to favor. He has said he will not be a candidate for president. But it is unlikely, in this country at war, that any government can be free of strong military influence. Possibly a parliamentary system could emerge, though considerably modified from Western systems. The physical problems of the voting will be formidable, with 25 per cent of the voters in areas controlled by the Viet Cong and 50 per cent more in the largely flooded delta.

In 1965 provincial and municipal elections, the only previous voting regarded as meaningful by U.S. Embassy sources, the government reported a turnout of 73 per cent of 4.6 million registered voters. This year the total of registered voters is expected to reach 5.5 million.

Where candidates run in man-to-man races, most are simply listed as independents. There are no political parties with nationwide following — apart from the Communists.

About 20 women are among the more than 700 candidates for the assembly. The list has been screened by the military regime to remove all it considers Communist sympathizers or neutralists.

All Vietnamese men and women over 18 are eligible to vote if they hold voters' cards or identity cards. Military units will vote in areas where they are stationed.

They were repairing the Statue of Freedom atop the dome. In view are the Senate wing (left), the House wing (right), the plaza with parked cars. Actor Goes Out and Gets Role Wanted in 'Camelot'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "When you see something you want, you should go after it with all your energies. Those who wait for things to come to them usually have to be satisfied with left-overs."

This bit of Irish sagacity comes from Richard Harris, who is living evidence of what he preaches. Sure now, would that brother of a lad Richard be playing the king of England if he had waited for the role to fall in his lap?

Probably not, although Harris is one of the more accomplished actors of Anglo-American show business. Within weeks he will be starting his enactment of King Arthur in the — apparently — last collaboration of Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, "Camelot."

The pageant is being produced by none other than Jack L. Warner, who left his usually August position as Warner Brothers headman to produce the last Lerner-Loewe adaptation, "My Fair Lady."

"They really didn't want me," said Irish Richard Harris. "They wanted lots of other chaps, but I earnestly desired the role and I insisted that they test me."

"I don't believe in all this cant of the big stars who insist that they won't test for a role. I had never played anything remotely resembling King Arthur before. So how could Jack Warner know that I could handle the role? He didn't, and I was willing to test at my own expense in order to convince him."

Fortunately, Harris was spared that indignity. He tested at the expense of Warner Brothers, exhibiting a lusty baritone that had never been heard professionally. "But I sang while I was drunk," Harris explained, "so I had plenty of practice."

His voice and regal bearing convinced the sage of Burbank, and Harris was cast as Arthur, along with Vanessa Redgrave as Guinevere and Italian Franco Nero as Lancelot. J.L. apparently is convinced the play's the thing and he doesn't need the box-office insurance of an Audrey Hepburn, who cost him a cool million for "My Fair Lady."

Ban on Cheap Pistols Approved in Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Aldermanic Police Committee has adopted an ordinance prohibiting the sale of .22 caliber pistols with barrels less than three inches and retailing for less than $39.

Police say cheap pistols have figured in a number of recent crimes here.

The Matterhorn stands in the Penninaps, one of many Alpine ranges that curve north and east from the French coast, growing higher and whiter as they compass northern Italy and spill into Switzerland, Austria, Germany and Yugoslavia.

THE LEADER of the first air strike against Hanoi's oil depots, Maj. James H. Kessler (above), has been shot down north of that Red capital city. His "beep, beep" radio signal was heard, and he radioed that his leg was broken—then silence. Kessler, 40, is from Indianapolis.

A Herd of Buffalo Was Like Money in the Bank to the Indians

To the Indians of the Old West, a herd of buffalo brought provision for the present . . . meat and hides for food and clothing to take care of immediate needs. And for those Indians who planned wisely, the buffalo meant "money in the bank" for the future, too. A stock of surplus hides was precious . . . a means of "buying" from other tribes, more of the things that make life better.

Are things different now? Not so very! True, you use money, not hides, to buy the things you want today . . . but, for your future, you need money in the bank, too. Which prompts us to ask: What are you doing with your extra "buffalo hides"? Set aside some money every payday, in an interest-bearing Savings Account here . . . and soon, you'll have more of the things that make life better. Start now!

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Friday, Aug. 12, the 224th day of 1966. There are 141 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1676, King Philip, one of the greatest Indian chiefs who created the first real organized resistance to white settlers, was trapped and shot to death near Turners Falls, Mass.

In 1891, American poet, editor and diplomat James Russell Lowell, died.

In 1898, U.S. forces entered the Spanish-held Philippines in the Manila.

In 1914, Great Britain declared war on Austria-Hungary. In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill met at sea to draft the Atlantic Charter.

In 1944, Allied forces liberated Florence, Italy. Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles emphasized in a meeting with congressional leaders their hope for a peaceful solution of the Suez Canal crisis.

Five years ago — Defense officials in Washington were reported concerned about the nation's military program for the Berlin crisis.

One year ago — Crowds of up to 5,000 Negroes rioted in the south Los Angeles area of Watts.

Unusual Political Calm Felt in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A period of unusual political calm, only a month in advance of elections for a constitutional Assembly, is encouraging hopes in Saigon that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky means to launch the nation on a democratic path which could profoundly change the whole course of the Viet Nam war.

There are many, however, who have doubts and reservations, as the time nears for voting to set up a 117-member assembly that will write a constitution for this war-weary country.

The campaign for the Sept. 11 elections begins officially Aug. 26. Candidates include such respected figures as the former chief of state, Phan Khac Suu, and the outspoken, independent doctor, Phan Quan Dan. Both were jailed during the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

There are also political unknowns in the lists, persons such as Vuong Son Thong, once personal photographer to Emperor Bao Dai. Thong, a Roman Catholic, is running in the mountain province of Quang Duc, where his knowledge of the local Montagnard language will be more help than his association with Viet Nam's last emperor.

The object of these elections is simply to set up an assembly which will produce a constitution. The elections are not designed to oust the military from government life. After the assembly writes the charter, it can be amended by the chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, although amendments can be overridden by a two-thirds vote of the assembly. Thieu must promulgate the constitution 30 days after it is completed.

Since formal campaigning is not yet permitted, the election has failed to stir much interest, but Vietnamese officials say they are confident the enthusiasm will come. They point to the angry denunciations now pouring from Communist radios as an indication of enemy fear that the elections will have strong popular appeal.

Communist propaganda and Viet Cong terror threats can hold down voter turnout. The Viet Cong hold virtual control in areas where about 25 per cent of the people live. The Viet Cong have called for a boycott of the election.

Another threatened boycott, however, is discounted on all sides. This threat came from radical Buddhists, who claim they have a following of about 1.5 million of the nation's 15 million people. They seem divided and disillusioned after being dispersed by Premier Ky's skillful politics and tough police action. Their nominal leader, Thich Tam Chau, is on a foreign tour which will keep him away until the voting is over. The fiery monk who was the real leader, Thich Tri Quang, has been fasting in protest, and largely ignored, in a Saigon hospital.

The titular chief of the radical Buddhists now is Thich Phap Tri. He is courting Father Hoang Quynh, the lone-wolf Catholic priest who has organized splinter elements into a small, frail opposition coalition whose members also say they will boycott the elections.

"The people will vote, whether Father Quynh or Tam Chau or Tri Quang like it or not," said a ranking Saigon intellectual. "The people will vote because they want to vote."

THE TIME OF

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy
nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support.
Plan to go to church regularly and
read your Bible daily.

There's happiness and ice cream all over her face! It takes so little to delight a child, and we sometimes wish that we could be satisfied as easily.

As we grow older, we acquire expensive new possessions but tire of them. We try costly new entertainments until they bore us. Even though our lives are full of small pleasures
... the fragrance of fresh-cut grass,
the soothing sound of rain, the silent beauty of stars ... we somehow aren't really aware of them any longer. Even life itself, the greatest gift we have,
can seem bleak and fruitless. What can restore our awareness of the joy and privilege of being alive?

Jesus knew about this problem,
and He had the answer for all who need it. He has promised life ... more abundant life ... to those who will follow Him. And He will help, every step of the way.

Senate Civil Rights Talk Due Sept. 6

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said
Thursday he will call for Senate action on the civil rights bill on Sept. 6, the day after Labor Day.

The House-passed measure faces even rougher going in the Senate than it had in the House, partly because of the opposition of Republican Leader Everett
M. Dirksen of Illinois to its limited open housing provision.

Mansfield declined to commit himself on this or other parts of the legislation. "I haven't even read the bill yet," he told newsmen.

He said he anticipates no opposition to lacing the bill on the Senate's legislative calendar without sending it first to the Senate Judiciary Committee, long a deadend for civil rights measures. Sen. James O.
Eastland, D-Miss., is chairman of the committee.

Once the battle over the bill is joined after Labor Day, Southern opponents may launch a filibuster against its passage.

Mansfield said Dirksen would predict that Congress would adjourn by Oct. 13. "I'd agree, but I would qualify that by saying with luck," he said.

U.S. Average Family Income Is $6,900

WASHINGTON (AP) — Median family income in the United States rose 5 per cent last year to $6,900, the Census Bureau reported Thursday. A similar 5 per cent rise was recorded during 1964.

But the bureau said in its annual survey of consumer income that price increases wiped out part of the gain and real purchasing power increased only about 3 per cent during the year.

Median income is the mid-point—not the average—for the incomes of the 48.3 million households in the country. It means that an equal number of families have incomes above and below that figure.

Almost half the nation's families—49 per cent—had incomes of $7,000 or more during 1965, the bureau said, while about 17 per cent had incomes under $3, 000. One-fourth of all families had incomes of $10,000 or more.

"Thou shalt not kill."

That this commandment

a great need for it in modern

Man's life is a sacred trust such emotions are "murder within the heart," and though men might not break the letter ment for the practice of brotherly

God has commanded all who love Him to love their brothers also, as proof of that love.

Such a love must be ex-

THE TIME OF

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor
on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy
nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support.
Plan to go to church regularly and
read your Bible daily.

There's happiness and ice cream
all over her face! It takes so little to delight a child, and we sometimes wish that we could be satisfied as easily.

As we grow older, we acquire expensive new possessions but tire of them. We try costly new entertainments until they bore us. Even though our lives are full of small pleasures
... the fragrance of fresh-cut grass,
the soothing sound of rain, the silent beauty of stars ... we somehow aren't really aware of them any longer. Even life itself, the greatest gift we have,
can seem bleak and fruitless. What can restore our awareness of the joy
and privilege of being alive?

Jesus knew about this problem,
and He had the answer for all who need it. He has promised life ... more abundant life ... to those who will follow Him. And He will help, every step of the way.

shoulder and a dog-eared plane ticket to Hong Kong as he tramped through the interior of China 20 years ago.

He was an ordained Baptist minister who considered himself "an assistant third flunkie" at his California church. He was in China for no significant reason, looking for nothing in particular.

But when he found three blunted hypodermic needles, a couple of old tin cans and a wooden box, Bob Pierce was moved more deeply than ever before in his life. These were the entire inventory of a "hospital" at which a 20-year-old American nurse was caring for more than 100 lepers.

Pierce, now a doctor of theology, was to recall later: "It so impressed me that on that day, on that spot, I decided I would spend the rest of my life caring for people about whose sincerity I was certain, doing something I knew was good."

That resolution has grown into a California-based organization called World Vision, which has provided millions of dollars for schools, orphanages and hospitals in 18 nations.

Pierce's latest project is in Saigon, South Viet Nam.

"We tried building schools in some Vietnamese villages," he said in an interview. "We tried, but we no longer had them built than the villages were overrun."

"Then the Lord intervened for us. The French Reformed Church had an acre of land in the middle of Saigon that the Church was afraid the Saigon government would confiscate for some nation's embassy."

"So they gave it to us — free — for 50 years, and we are building a dormitory, a school and an administration building there for 800 Vietnamese kids."

They are children who have had some education, Pierce said. "But for 800 other children from the back country, those who are 10 or 12 years old and have never had a day of schooling, we want to build another school to get them ready for the more advanced one in Saigon."

Reformatory Boys To Get New Training

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federally-financed program to train youngsters to get jobs will be set up at the Mansfield Reformatory, Director Martin A. Janis of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections announced Thursday.

His announcement said it will be the first such training program operated by a state Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation in connection with a prison. The training center will be established in a dormitory outside the reformatory walls. It will house about 175 inmates, all under 21.

The reformatory now has job training classes for its 2,000 inmates, but the new center will be separate. The federal Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation will pay all costs to establish and operate the new center.

"We don't put a nickel out on this program," said James Welsh, an assistant to Janis named as liaison officer with the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation. It will take about $250,000 to set up training programs in welding, meat cutting, appliance repair, cooking, car repair, clerical work, warehousing and bricklaying.

East Africa College Gets American Loan

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Pierce had just $5 in his pocket, a beat-up movie camera on his shoulder and a dog-eared plane ticket to Hong Kong as he tramped through the interior of China 20 years ago.

He was an ordained Baptist minister who considered himself "an assistant third flunkie" at his California church. He was in China for no significant reason, looking for nothing in particular.

But when he found three blunted hypodermic needles, a couple of old tin cans and a wooden box, Bob Pierce was moved more deeply than ever before in his life. These were the entire inventory of a "hospital" at which a 20-year-old American nurse was caring for more than 100 lepers.

Pierce, now a doctor of theology, was to recall later: "It so impressed me that on that day, on that spot, I decided I would spend the rest of my life caring for people about whose sincerity I was certain, doing something I knew was good."

That resolution has grown into a California-based organization called World Vision, which has provided millions of dollars for schools, orphanages and hospitals in 18 nations.

Pierce's latest project is in Saigon, South Viet Nam.

"We tried building schools in some Vietnamese villages," he said in an interview. "We tried, but we no sooner had them built than the villages were overrun."

"Then the Lord intervened for us. The French Reformed Church had an acre of land in the middle of Saigon that the Church was afraid the Saigon government would confiscate for some nation's embassy."

"So they gave it to us — free — for 50 years, and we are building a dormitory, a school and an administration building there for 800 Vietnamese kids."

They are children who have had some education, Pierce said. "But for 800 other children from the back country, those who are 10 or 12 years old and have never had a day of schooling, we want to build another school to get them ready for the more advanced one in Saigon."

Reformatory Boys To Get New Training

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federally-financed program to train youngsters to get jobs will be set up at the Mansfield Reformatory, Director Martin A. Janis of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections announced Thursday.

His announcement said it will be the first such training program operated by a state Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation in connection with a prison.

The training center will be established in a dormitory outside the reformatory walls. It will house about 175 inmates, all under 21.

The reformatory now has job training classes for its 2,000 inmates, but the new center will be separate. The federal Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation will pay all costs to establish and operate the new center.

"We don't put a nickel out on this program," said James Welsh, an assistant to Janis named as liaison officer with the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation.

It will take about $250,000 to set up training programs in welding, meat cutting, appliance repair, cooking, car repair, clerical work, warehousing and bricklaying.

OSU Profs Ride Avalanche Down Swiss Mountain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohio State University professors found the quickest way down the Swiss Alps is to ride an avalanche.

Rudolph Speiser and Milton Boone were with two academic colleagues in Switzerland July 29, climbing the Eiger, which means "Ogre." This mountain is considered one of the most difficult to climb, Speiser said.

He tells the story this way: Boone, 63, Khasrow Moazed, 35, Arthur Leissa, 35, and Speiser, 53—all experienced climbers—had reached 12,500 feet. They were going into a steep snow field, tied together with rope tested for 4,000 pounds.

Suddenly, Moazed and Leissa—who were together—shouted "avalanche" to Speiser and Boone.

From above, thousands of pounds of snow came hurtling down. "We were flipped around like rag dolls," Speiser said. "We were riding the top of the thing." The avalanche and the two professors tumbled down more than 2,500 feet in about 25 seconds.

After the brief but treacherous ride, Speiser and Boone lay in the snow with broken arms, legs and ribs.

Speiser said he thought all four had gone down with the avalanche, and that Moazed and Leissa were buried dead "under a hundred feet of snow."

Speiser figured he was the only one able to go for help. "It took me an hour to get down 1,500 feet," he said. When he did get to a place where he could call for help, he passed out from pain and exhaustion.

When he came to, he said he yelled for help.

What he didn't know at the time was that the avalanche had been seen from below where tourists were watching the mountain climb through telescopes.

Two guides came to Speiser, who gave directions to Boone. Then came doctors and finally a full expedition.

When Speiser was told Moazed and Leissa were safe, he didn't know what to believe.

Then the two walked over to Speiser and he was told it had taken them more than three hours to make the descent, "while it took us less than 30 seconds."

Boone remains in a hospital at Interlocken, Switzerland. He'll be there another month.

Reservoirs Preferred To Pipeline

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A series of reservoirs would be a better way to supply water to northwest Ohio than a pipeline from Lake Erie, the Northwest Ohio Water Development Advisory Council has been told.

The technical staffs of firms working on development plans for the 8,683-square-mile area recommended building a series of reservoirs to meet the needs of 150 communities over the next 40 years.

The 21 council members met with the Ohio Water Commission here Thursday to get progress reports from engineers and others working on the program.

The water development plan is supported by $2 million in state funds and aimed at stepping up the economy of 27 counties in the area.

The reservoir plan has been estimated to be the cheapest way to supply water to northwest Ohio, according to Robert H. Tippet, manager of the survey. Tippet is with Burgess & Niple Co., a Columbus engineering firm.

Building a pipeline to serve as areas more than 10 to 12 miles from the lake is too costly, Tippet said. Part of the water development proposal, however, includes a pipeline to serve Norwalk, Monroeville, Milan and possibly Bellevue, as the cheapest and most feasible way to get water to those communities.

The 24-foot-deep reservoirs would be spotted in the basins of the Maumee, Portage, Sandusky, Huron, Vermilion and Black rivers, forming a string of lakes across one-fifth of Ohio from the Indiana line to the Elyria area.

Cleveland Undercover 'Reds' Unaware of Riot Planning

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two rookie Cleveland policemen who worked undercover as members of the Communist Party and affiliated organizations say they know of no party preparations for the recent rioting in Cleveland's Hough area.

The policemen — promoted to the department's detective bureau — told a news conference Thursday that they had no personal knowledge of pre-riot plans.

However, Fred Giardini and Jesse Thomas, a negro, told newsmen that their work put them in contact with several persons named by the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury as "recurring personalities in the chain of events which preceded both the Superior and Hough situations."

A few weeks before the major rioting in the predominantly Negro Hough area there had been minor disturbances and instances of fire bombings along Superior Avenue.

The grand jury announced in its report Tuesday night that leftist and Communist agitators, augmented by local Black Nationalists, helped organize the Hough riots.

As clarification, Detective John T. Patton of the police subversive activities unit said:

"Please don't think that because we can't at this time divulge certain information and that because Jesse and Fred may not have been eyewitnesses to specific events that the grand jury report is not correct."

Thomas also made this comment: "Let me say that the Communist Party, if they had an opportunity to create disturbances, would take advantage of it. On the other hand, they are perfectly willing to jump on the band wagon and use it for their means."

"No comment" was the answer both made when asked if the riots were Communist-inspired. They also said that much of their information was "classified."

Van Wert Probes Body in Quarry

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — The body of a man, about 50, was found washed ashore at an abandoned stone quarry Thursday night beside a cardboard box in which authorities believe he had been dumped in the pond.

The box had been seen floating on the quarry pool three or four weeks ago, according to Sheriff W. L. Clay, who went to the scene northwest of here after a fisherman found the body.

The sheriff and Coroner W. C. Trapp said the unidentified man evidently had been dead about four weeks.

Clay and Trapp said the man "undoubtedly" was a victim of foul play, probably homicide, the cause of death was not immediately known.

ASC Committee Election Scheduled Here Wednesday

Delegates already selected by recent vote will elect farmers to fill vacancies on the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee during a county convention Aug. 17 at Boyer's Restaurant.

According to Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the ASC County Committee, the convention will start at 9 a. m. All persons interested in observing the voting procedure may attend, although only farmer-delegates may participate in the election process.

The election is by secret ballot and plurality vote. After the election, delegates will then determine which of the regular committeemen will serve as chairman and vice chairman for the coming year.

ASC county and community committeemen are in charge of local administration of such farm action programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, the National Wool Program, commodity price support loans and storage facility loans.

A QUALIFIED candidate for service on the ASC county committee, Mowery explained, is a resident eligible to vote in one of the community elections in the county, and who meets other eligibility requirements. Eligibility to vote or hold office as a committeeman is not restricted by reason of race, color, creed or national origin. Other details as to qualifications of candidates are available at the ASCS County Office.

Any questions on eligibility to hold office as an ASC county committeeman will be decided by the incumbent county committee subject to appeal to the State committee. The convention would proceed, however, on the basis of the county committee decision.

Mowery urged all ASC farmer-delegates to be sure to attend Wednesday's convention. These farmers were automatically chosen as convention delegates when they were elected recently by their farmer-neighbors to serve as ASC community committeemen for the coming year.

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP)—The body of a man, about 50, was found washed ashore at an abandoned stone quarry Thursday night beside a cardboard box in which authorities believe he had been dumped in the pond.

The box had been seen floating on the quarry pool three or four weeks ago, according to Sheriff W. L. Clay, who went to the scene northwest of here after a fisherman found the body.

The sheriff and Coroner W. C. Trapp said the unidentified man evidently had been dead about four weeks.

Clay and Trapp said the man "undoubtedly" was a victim of foul play, probably homicide, the cause of death was not immediately known.

ASC Committee Election Scheduled Here Wednesday

Delegates already selected by recent vote will elect farmers to fill vacancies on the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee during a county convention Aug. 17 at Boyer's Restaurant.

According to Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the ASC County Committee, the convention will start at 9 a. m. All persons interested in observing the voting procedure may attend, although only farmer-delegates may participate in the election process.

The election is by secret ballot and plurality vote. After the election, delegates will then determine which of the regular committeemen will serve as chairman and vice chairman for the coming year.

ASC county and community committeemen are in charge of local administration of such farm-action programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, the National Wool Program, commodity price - support loans and storage facility loans.

other eligibility requirements. Eligibility to vote or hold office as a committeeman is not restricted by reason of race, color, creed or national origin. Other details as to qualifications of candidates are available at the ASCS County Office.

Any questions on eligibility to hold office as an ASC county committeeman will be decided by the incumbent county committee subject to appeal to the State committee. The convention would proceed, however, on the basis of the county committee decision.

Mowery urged all ASC farmer-delegates to be sure to attend Wednesday's convention. These farmers were automatically chosen as convention delegates when they were elected recently by their farmer-neighbors to serve as ASC community committeemen for the coming year.

Beefy Oriole Turns Single Into Romp

Sloppy Grounds, 3 Errors Help To Defeat Yanks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Boog Powell stands 6-foot-4 and weighs 235 pounds. He's not what you'd call fast.

But he turned a routine single into a pretty funny romp around the bases Thursday night in Baltimore's 6-5 victory over the New York Yankees.

A wet ball and some wetter puddles in the Yankee Stadium outfield made it easy.

The Orioles had jumped on Yankee starter Mel Stottlemyre for three runs in the first inning after the start of the game was delayed an hour by rain. Brooks Robinson was on first base with two out in the third when the fun started.

Powell singled to left and Robinson headed for third. "I was going to stop there," Robinson said later. "Then I saw Hector Lopez miss the ball, so I kept going."

When Lopez finally fished the ball out of the puddles in left field and relayed it home, the wet ball squirted past catcher Jake Gibbs. Powell, troubled by a muscle spasm in his right leg, was still at first when Stottlemyre, backing up the play, went after the loose ball.

The linescore on the play reads: Two runs, one hit, three errors.

"I wasn't going to go anywhere," said Powell. "Then I saw the ball get away, so I said, 'what the heck.' I slid into second and the spasm came back again."

Stottlemyre, with plenty of time to catch Powell, threw high, the wet ball sailing into swampy center field. There Tom Tresh fought a losing battle with the moisture while Powell lumbered around third and toward the plate.

"I don't know how I got home," the strapping slugger said. "I just struggled the rest of the way."

"It looked like a track meet for awhile," laughed Robinson. Powell left the game after scoring and his replacement, Sam Bowens, delivered the 11th inning single that scored Luis Aparicio with the winning run for the Orioles.

Powell said he would have been able to continue if he had time to work out the spasm. "It hurts a bit, but I'll be all right," he said.

In other American League action, Chicago won its seventh straight, whipping Kansas City 10-9, Boston battered Cleveland 13-3 and Minnesota trimmed California 4-3.

In the National League, Pittsburgh topped New York 7-5, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 5-1 and Chicago nipped Houston 9-8, in 11 innings in the first game of a doubleheader. The Astros led 8-5 after seven innings when the second game was suspended.

Frank Robinson, who saved a game with a leaping catch in right field the last time the Orioles played in New York, did it again—this time in left.

He crashed into the barrier backhanding Clete Boyer's drive with one out in the 11th. That was the Yankees' last threat.

CHS Coach Sounds Call For Gridders

Physical Exams Set Monday; Drills Start August 19

Football and all the thrills and excitement associated with it is just around the corner.

Paul Starr, head grid coach at Circleville High School, has sounded his first call for candidates. All players, grades 7-12, planning to take part in this year's program, will report 7:30 p. m. Monday at the new high school for physical examinations.

Coach Starr announced Aug. 19 as the official starting date for practice. More than 50 players are expected to compete for varsity berths. Good turnouts also are expected in the freshman and junior high categories.

Physicians donating their services for the physical exams are Drs. Robert McCoy, J. M. Hedges, Carlos B. Alvarez, Ray Carroll and Frank Moore. Eye exams will be handled by Drs. Robert Liggett and D. S. Goldschmidt.

A TEAM physician will be supplied by the local chapter of the American Medical Assn. at a later date.

Varsity uniforms will be distributed Aug. 18 at the new high school.

Fresh and junior high practices will begin after school opens Sept. 6. An exact schedule will be announced later.

Bosox Find Old Punch, Scalp Tribe

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro and George Scott appear to have overcome prolonged batting slumps and the Boston Red Sox once again pack a tremendous 1-2 punch in the middle of the lineup.

Conigliaro drove in five runs with his 21st homer, a pair of singles and a double before walking to set the stage for Scott's 23rd home run Thursday night as the Red Sox routed the Cleveland Indians 13-3.

"This has got to be one of my finest games at the plate," Conigliaro said. "I think I drove in six runs in a game last year, but I know I've never had more than four hits. I was hoping to get that fifth hit before I walked in the eighth inning, but my best shot just curved foul."

After Conigliaro walked, Scott didn't waste any time against Cleveland reliever Bob Allen. Muscular Scottie leaned into the first pitch and sent a drive some 500 feet into the bleachers in center.

The tape-measure home run landed at the base of the wall behind the seats which slant up. Only two players, Hank Greenberg and Jimmy Fox, ever have cleared the wall in the sector.

"Scott really poked a homer off Whitey Ford in New York earlier this year, but I doubt if he'll ever hit a ball much farther than that one tonight," said Boston Manager Billy Herman.

"He really got good wood on it."

3 and 1 in the afternoon. Miss Martin defeated Mrs. Jason Weiss 4 and 3, then lost to three-time champion Joanne Gunderson Carner 4 and 3.

Bolt Joins 8 Others in Pacing Meet

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — If Tommy Bolt keeps this up they'll be calling the one-time bad boy of the links "Thunderbird" instead of "Thunder" Bolt.

"I still get just as mad as ever, but I control it better," the 48-year-old veteran from Sarasota, Fla., said Thursday after firing a three-under-par 69 to share the first-round lead in the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic with eight others.

The touring pros put on one of the wildest par-smashing exhibitions since the nine-way first-round tie at the 1959 PGA.

No less than 26 golfers equaled or bettered par and 15 others equaled it over the 7,055-yard, par 72 Upper Montclair Country Club course despite the tricky greens and a crosswind that sent scores soaring on the back nine. The burned-out rough helped.

Sharing the lead with Bolt were Gary Player of South Africa, Australians Bruce Crampton and Bruce Devlin, Canada's George Knudson, and four touring pros—Tom Weiskopf, Rod Funseth, Dudley Wysong and Mason Rudolph.

Stars Notch 11-2 Win In Tourney

The Circleville Little League All-Stars breezed past The Southern Independent Little League, 11-2, Thursday in the Teays Valley Tournament.

Dave Truex, hurling for Circleville, held the opponents to one hit. He walked three and fanned seven en route to the win.

Griggs started for the losers and was relieved by Wright after he allowed 12 hits. Wright held Circleville to one safety.

Truex doubled for the winners. Terry Morrison added three singles and Mike Hamrick two.

KIBBITS doubled for SILL's only hit.

The All-Stars play the Teays Valley All-Stars next in the tournament. That game will be 5:30 p. m. Saturday. The tourney is scheduled to end Tuesday.

All-Star Grid Game Rated As Tossup

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Tonight's North-South high school football game is rated a tossup that could boil down to a battle between quarterbacks.

Brian Healy of Sandusky will start at quarterback for the North, and Jim Ousley of Middletown will start at that post for the South. Healy led Sandusky to an undefeated season last year, South Coach Dick Walker of undefeated Columbus Watterson rates Ousley as one of the finest quarterbacks he has seen.

The North, coached by Bob Seaman, new coach at Massillon and coach of Sandusky's 10-0 team last season, will employ a "T" or "I" formation and occasionally go with split ends.

Walker, an exponent of the winged-T formation, bypassed drills Thursday afternoon to test players on use of the formation.

The fastest backfield man in either lineup is Tony Lewis of Dayton Wilbur Wright. He runs the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds. Another dangerous back for the South is Gus Grim of Upper Arlington. Fullback position will be divided between Paul Huff of Dover and Kevin Ryan of Columbus Watterson.

Zanesville Out Of Baseball Test

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Janesville, Wis., and East Detroit, Mich., both used Zanesville, Ohio, as a stepping stone in advancing Thursday to the finals of the seven-state regional Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament for boys 13-15.

Janesville, now 3-0 in the double-elimination tourney, beat Zanesville, 5-2, in a game resumed after rain interruption the previous night. East Detroit, now 3-1, then eliminated the Ohio champions, 7-5.

Janesville and East Detroit meet Friday night, and will play again Saturday if the Michigan entry wins.

Sayers of Bears Faces Packers' Big Defense

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Halfback Gale Sayers gets on with the job of proving he's for real tonight as the Chicago Bears meet the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers in a preseason exhibition game.

Sayers, the toast of the league as a rookie, will be up against the NFL's stingiest defense. The Packers allowed a league-low only 224 points last season while winning the Western Division crown.

The same defense will take the field tonight in the nationally televised game scheduled to start at 9:40 p. m. EDT.

The Packers, already convinced that Sayers is as good as his sensational rookie record would indicate, concentrated all week on ways to stop thrusts of the former Kansas star.

Coach George Halas believes that the Packers and other NFL teams will be able to devise some successful stratagems.

"You can't expect Sayers to have another year like last year," Halas said. "He's a great back but they'll rig special defenses for him. What we're working on is aimed at taking advantage of those special defenses."

The Bears, who came on with a rush last season after losing their first three games, are expected to experiment with rookies tonight.

The Packers will also test a number of first year men, including bonus baby Jim Grabowski of Illinois. The fullback will be making his first appearance in a Packer uniform.

The other half of the highly touted Green Bay rookie tandem, halfback Donny Anderson of Texas Tech, is out with an ankle injury and is not expected to play.

The St. Louis Cardinals opened the week's exhibition schedule with a 28-14 romp over the Lions at Detroit Thursday night.

The other games tonight are in the American Football League, with Denver at Buffalo and Kansas City at Miami, in the home opener for the brand-new Dolphins, starting their first season in pro ball.

Saturday's schedule has Baltimore vs. Philadelphia at New Orleans, Dallas at Los Angeles, Minnesota vs. Pittsburgh at Portland, Ore., New York vs. Atlanta at Nashville, Tenn., in

A wet ball and some wetter puddles in the Yankee Stadium outfield made it easy.

The Orioles had jumped on Yankee starter Mel Stottlemyre for three runs in the first inning after the start of the game was delayed an hour by rain. Brooks Robinson was on first base with two out in the third when the fun started.

Powell singled to left and Robinson headed for third. "I was going to stop there," Robinson said later. "Then I saw Hector Lopez miss the ball, so I kept going."

When Lopez finally fished the ball out of the puddles in left field and relayed it home, the wet ball squirted past catcher Jake Gibbs. Powell, troubled by a muscle spasm in his right leg, was still at first when Stottlemyre, backing up the play, went after the loose ball.

The linescore on the play reads: Two runs, one hit, three errors.

"I wasn't going to go anywhere," said Powell. "Then I saw the ball get away, so I said, 'what the heck.' I slid into second and the spasm came back again."

Stottlemyre, with plenty of time to catch Powell, threw high, the wet ball sailing into swampy center field. There Tom Tresh fought a losing battle with the moisture while Powell lumbered around third and toward the plate.

"I don't know how I got home," the strapping slugger said. "I just struggled the rest of the way."

"It looked like a track meet for awhile," laughed Robinson. Powell left the game after scoring and his replacement, Sam Bowens, delivered the 11th inning single that scored Luis Aparicio with the winning run for the Orioles.

Powell said he would have been able to continue if he had time to work out the spasm. "It hurts a bit, but I'll be all right," he said.

In other American League action, Chicago won its seventh straight, whipping Kansas City 10-9, Boston battered Cleveland 13-3 and Minnesota trimmed California 4-3.

In the National League, Pittsburgh topped New York 7-5, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 5-1 and Chicago nipped Houston 9-8 in 11 innings in the first game of a doubleheader. The Astros led 8-5 after seven innings when the second game was suspended.

Frank Robinson, who saved a game with a leaping catch in right field the last time the Orioles played in New York, did it again—this time in left.

He crashed into the barrier backhanding Clete Boyer's drive with one out in the 11th. That was the Yankees' last threat.

2 Ohio Girls Bow In Golf Tourney

SEWICKLEY, Pa. (AP) — Miss Lida Fee Mathews of Portsmouth, Ohio, beat Mrs. Street, but could not beat Mrs. Street, and Fee Fee and fellow Ohioan Maggie Martin, St. Clairsville, bowed out in the quarterfinals of the USGA Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

Miss Matthews holed a 30-foot birdie to defeat Mrs. Gordon Street Jr. 1 up, 19 holes, in Thursday's morning round, but lost to Marlene Stewart Streit

CHS Coach Sounds Call For Gridders

Physical Exams Set Monday; Drills Start August 19

Football and all the thrills and excitement associated with it is just around the corner.

Paul Starr, head grid coach at Circleville High School, has sounded his first call for candidates. All players, grades 7-12, planning to take part in this year's program, will report 7:30 p. m. Monday at the new high school for physical examinations.

Coach Starr announced Aug. 19 as the official starting date for practice. More than 50 players are expected to compete for varsity berths. Good turnouts also are expected in the freshman and junior high categories.

Physicians donating their services for the physical exams are Drs. Robert McCoy, J. M. Hedges, Carlos B. Alvarez, Ray Carroll and Frank Moore. Eye exams will be handled by Drs. Robert Liggett and D. S. Goldschmidt.

A TEAM physician will be supplied by the local chapter of the American Medical Assn. at a later date.

Varsity uniforms will be distributed Aug. 18 at the new high school.

Fresh and junior high practices will begin after school opens Sept. 6. An exact schedule will be announced later.

Bosox Find Old Punch, Scalp Tribe

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro and George Scott appear to have overcome prolonged batting slumps and the Boston Red Sox once again pack a tremendous 1-2 punch in the middle of the lineup.

Conigliaro drove in five runs with his 21st homer, a pair of singles and a double before walking to set the stage for Scott's 23rd home run Thursday night as the Red Sox routed the Cleveland Indians 13-3.

"This has got to be one of my finest games at the plate," Conigliaro said. "I think I drove in six runs in a game last year, but I know I've never had more than four hits. I was hoping to get that fifth hit before I walked in the eighth inning, but my best shot just curved foul."

After Conigliaro walked, Scott didn't waste any time against Cleveland reliever Bob Allen. Muscular Scottie leaped into the first pitch and sent a drive some 500 feet into the bleachers in center.

The tape-measure home run landed at the base of the wall behind the seats which slant up. Only two players, Hank Greenberg and Jimmy Fox, ever have cleared the wall in the sector.

"Scott really poked a homer off Whitey Ford in New York earlier this year, but I doubt if he'll ever hit a ball much farther than that one tonight," said Boston Manager Billy Herman.

"He really got good wood on it."

3 and 1 in the afternoon. Miss Martin defeated Mrs. Jason Weiss 4 and 3, then lost to three-time champion Joanne Gunderson Carner 4 and 3.

Bolt Joins 8 Others in Pacing Meet

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — If Tommy Bolt keeps this up they'll be calling the one-time bad boy of the links "Thunderbird" instead of "Thunder" Bolt.

"I still get just as mad as ever, but I control it better," the 48-year-old veteran from Sarasota, Fla., said Thursday after firing a three-under-par 69 to share the first-round lead in the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic with eight others.

The touring pros put on one of the wildest par-smashing exhibitions since the nine-way first-round tie at the 1959 PGA.

No less than 26 golfers bettered par and 15 others equaled it over the 7,055-yard, par 72 Upper Montclair Country Club course despite the tricky greens and a crosswind that sent scores soaring on the back nine. The burned-out rough helped.

Sharing the lead with Bolt were Gary Player of South Africa, Australians Bruce Crampton and Bruce Devlin, Canada's George Knudson, and four touring pros—Tom Weiskopf, Rod Funseth, Dudley Wysong and Mason Rudolph.

Stars Notch 11-2 Win In Tourney

The Circleville Little League All-Stars breezed past The Southern Independent Little League, 11-2, Thursday in the Teays Valley Tournament.

Dave Truex, hurling for Circleville, held the opponents to one hit. He walked three and fanned seven en route to the win.

Griggs started for the losers and was relieved by Wright after he allowed 12 hits. Wright held Circleville to one safety.

Truex doubled for the winners. Terry Morrison added three singles and Mike Hamrick two.

KIBBITTS doubled for SILL's only hit.

The All-Stars play the Teays Valley All-Stars next in the tournament. That game will be 5:30 p. m. Saturday. The tournament is scheduled to end Tuesday.

All-Star Grid Game Rated As Tossup

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Tonight's North-South high school football game is rated a tossup that could boil down to a battle between quarterbacks.

Brian Healy of Sandusky will start at quarterback for the North, and Jim Ousley of Midletown will start at that post for the South. Healy led Sandusky to an undefeated season last year. South Coach Dick Walker of undefeated Columbus Watterson rates Ousley as one of the finest quarterbacks he has seen.

The North, coached by Bob Seaman, new coach at Massillon and coach of Sandusky's 10-0 team last season, will employ a "T" or "I" formation and occasionally go with split ends.

Walker, an exponent of the winged-T formation, bypassed drills Thursday afternoon to test players on use of the formation.

The fastest backfield man in either lineup is Tony Lewis of Dayton Wilbur Wright. He runs the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds. Another dangerous back for the South is Gus Grim of Upper Arlington. Fullback position will be divided between Paul Huff of Dover and Kevin Ryan of Columbus Watterson.

Zanesville Out Of Baseball Test

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Janesville, Wis., and East Detroit, Mich., both used Zanesville, Ohio, as a stepping stone in advancing Thursday to the finals of the seven-state regional Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament for boys 13-15.

Janesville, now 3-0 in the double-elimination tourney, beat Zanesville, 5-2, in a game resumed after rain interruption the previous night. East Detroit, now 3-1, then eliminated the Ohio champions, 7-5.

Janesville and East Detroit meet Friday night, and will play again Saturday if the Michigan entry wins.

Sayers of Bears Faces Packers' Big Defense

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Halfback Gale Sayers gets on with the job of proving he's for real tonight as the Chicago Bears meet the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers in a preseason exhibition game.

Sayers, the toast of the league as a rookie, will be up against the NFL's stingiest defense. The Packers allowed a league-low only 224 points last season while winning the Western Division crown.

The same defense will take the field tonight in the nationally televised game scheduled to start at 9:40 p. m. EDT.

The Packers, already convinced that Sayers is as good as his sensational rookie record would indicate, concentrated all week on ways to stop thrusts of the former Kansas star.

Coach George Halas believes that the Packers and other NFL teams will be able to devise some successful stratagems.

"You can't expect Sayers to have another year like last year," Halas said. "He's a great back but they'll rig special defenses for him. What we're working on is aimed at taking advantage of those special defenses."

The Bears, who came on with a rush last season after losing their first three games, are expected to experiment with rookies tonight.

The Packers will also test a number of first year men, including bonus baby Jim Grabowski of Illinois. The fullback will be making his first appearance in a Packer uniform.

The other half of the highly touted Green Bay rookie tandem, halfback Donny Anderson of Texas Tech, is out with an ankle injury and is not expected to play.

The St. Louis Cardinals opened the week's exhibition schedule with a 28-14 romp over the Lions at Detroit Thursday night.

The other games tonight are in the American Football League, with Denver at Buffalo and Kansas City at Miami, in the home opener for the brand-new Dolphins, starting their first season in pro ball.

Saturday's schedule has Baltimore vs. Philadelphia at New Orleans, Dallas at Los Angeles, Minnesota vs. Pittsburgh at Portland, Ore., New York vs. Atlanta at Nashville, Tenn., in the NFL, and Oakland at San Diego and Houston vs. New York at Birmingham, Ala., in the AFL. All are night games.

Way Believed Clear Again For Clay-Terrell Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — The way has been cleared — again — for an Ernie Terrell-Cassius Clay heavyweight championship fight. But such questions as when and if where — emphasis on "where" — are still very much up in the air.

"We're interested in talking business with Terrell now that he's eligible to fight in New York," said Madison Square Garden matchmaker Harry Markson after the New York Athletic Commission had granted Terrell a license to fight in New York.

"We could settle up all this talk about who's champion," Clay said in Chicago. "That would be nice."

Clay, generally recognized as the world champion, and Terrell, who holds the World Boxing Association version of the title, were scheduled to fight last March. But it never came off and the arrangements reached farical proportions before it was all over.

The bout had been set for Madison Square Garden. But Terrell was denied a license because of his alleged connections with Bernie Glickman, an associate of underworld characters Blinky Palermo and Frankie Carbo. The New York commission said Glickman was Terrell's manager, but Ernie denied it.

So the fight was moved to Chicago. The Illinois Athletic Commission turned it down because of Clay's remarks about his draft status, Viet Nam and such. Louisville and Pittsburgh turned it down. Verdun, Que., Huron, S.D., and Manchester, N.H., made bids for it before the site was finally picked — Toronto.

But Terrell pulled out of that fight because he couldn't get the guarantees he wanted. Clay wound up fighting George Chuvalo of Canada. He won it, of course, and Terrell eventually fought and beat Doug Jones in Houston.

Now, it could be on again — but well in the future.

"We would be very interested in talking about a Clay-Terrell fight," Markson said Thursday, "but Clay has other commitments right now."

Clay, who knocked out Brian London in London last Saturday, is scheduled for a title defense against German champion Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt Sept. 10.

The New York Athletic Commission, under new chairman Ed Daoley, gave unanimous approval to Terrell's license, which names George A. Hamid as his manager. Hamid is part owner of the new Miami Dolphins of the American Football League.

Pickaway Shriners Review Past, Upcoming Activities

Past and upcoming events were reviewed when members of the Pickaway Shrine Club met this week at the BPO Elks club room for their monthly session.

The Shrine Horse Show, conducted July 23 at the local Fairgrounds, was rated a successful event. It was indicated that a sizeable sum will be realized. The funds are earmarked for promotion of the Shrine's Crippled Children's Hospitals program.

A letter from Susie Erwin, winner of the pony presented at the horse show, was received and read. The local DeMolay organization also voiced appreciation in letter form for the privilege of operating a concession stand at the show.

The second annual Shrine Club-Knights of Columbus golf outing and picnic will be conducted at the Pickaway Country Club on Aug. 17, with golf starting at noon and a picnic for all at 5 p. m.

THE K OF C will host this year's event. Door prizes will be awarded.

An annual Shrine family picnic has been scheduled for Aug. 24 at the Country Club. Activity will start at 4 p. m.

On a larger scale, the yearly Shrine picnic again will be held at Beulah Park near Grove City on Sept. 10.

A schedule of events for 1967 was announced. Listed were: installation of officers, Jan. 9; Shrine Horse Show, July 8; Shrine-K of C picnic, Aug. 9; Shrine family picnic, Aug. 23; Ladies Night, Sept. 11.

Members authorized the sending of flowers to Roy Gosnell, a shriner of long standing who is confined in the hospital. Dr. Robert G. Smith reported on his investigation in the cases of two disabled children, both possibly candidates for The Crippled Children's Hospital.

New Pioneer Spacecraft Is Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today it plans to launch a new Pioneer spacecraft into orbit around the sun next Wednesday to gather more information on space flight hazards.

The 140-pound drum-shaped Pioneer B is to be launched by a Delta rocket from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

If the craft goes into orbit, it will be called Pioneer VII, a space twin of the highly successful Pioneer VI put up last December.

Genetic Tinkering Is Explored

When Scientists Discover Secret To Changing Man, Will They Dare?

EDITOR'S NOTE — Mankind is entering into the "genetic age" and the new skills acquired by scientists in altering growth and heredity will bring awesome responsibilities. The big question, "Who will decide what future man shall be?" is the subject of the following last in a series of four articles on genetic tinkering.

A magic phrase — genetic tinkering — has struck both hope and fear into the hearts of far thinking men over the world.

The hope is that recent research in the submicroscopic world of the genes of the human cell will lead to a new era of freedom from defects and disease.

The fear is that this promised power over the form and even the thoughts of future man could fall into evil hands.

Genetic tinkering means altering the chemical makeup of genes — Molecules in the heart of living cells which carry the coded blueprints for future generations and also direct the development of every organism, including man.

Gene specialists — geneticists — are beginning to crack the genetic code. They have learned that it consists of a five-letter alphabet in which each letter stands for a vital chemical base, and that various combinations or "words" represent the raw material of life.

The chemical bases — adenine, guanine, cytosine, thymine and uracil — are known. Known also is the way in which they act with the help of enzymes to put together the amino acids which form proteins, the building blocks of living tissue.

Ahead lies a staggering task — duplicating this natural chemical process in the laboratory — but some believe it will be achieved in a generation or so. If scientists succeed, they expect to be able to alter the process, perhaps by substituting other chemicals, so that living cells produce not organisms like their ancestors but strange forms, the variety of which is limited only by the scientists' imagination.

Can they really do this? Will they want to?

Says Dr. Ray Owen, chairman of the biology division of the California Institute of Technology:

"Recent advances have placed the opportunity of controlling human heredity in the hands of those who may want to do so.

"There is an antipathy in genetic societies against genetic manipulation because of the dangers in determining what are good directions and what are bad directions to take. There are dangers in modifying people and dangers in turning out only identical people.

"I am convinced there are some decisions which should not be made by scientists alone."

Says Dr. Renato Dulbecco, geneticist at the Salk Institute for Biological Studies:

"Genetic research has reached the stage where we must begin collecting and processing with computers this tremendous amount of new information and, hopefully, begin picking committees to decide what man should be like in the future.

"It is foreseeable that science may be able to predetermine not only the physical characteristics but also the social attitudes of people. It may be possible eventually, through direction of cell growth, to choose not only how many fingers a man should have, for instance, but even how he will think — whether he will be war-loving or war-hating."

Dr. Melvin Calvin, director of the bio-organic group at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of the University of California said in a speech:

"We have before us now the requirement for a decision on a course of action probably more profound and far-reaching in its consequences than that which faced the statesmen of the world following the discovery of nuclear fission in 1939 and the creation of nuclear explosives only six years later.

"Both the immediate and long-range future of our country and mankind are dependent upon decisions on the way we use the fruits of this new knowledge."

These men are not alone in their thinking. Technical publications have carried similar counsel from scientists around the world.

Few doubt that genetic control will come. The major point of difference is over how far down the road of research it lies. Some think it may take a century or two.

One of the more optimistic, Dr. James Bonner, Cal Tech biologist, believes some forms of human genetic tinkering will be possible in a generation.

"My son will be able to have four hands — and he might need them to keep up with the pace of our changing times," says Bonner.

Eventually, he predicts, "The brain will stay at home, concentrating on thought, while the sense organs roam the world, seeing, talking, listening, playing. We will enjoy a new freedom — freedom from carrying our heads around."

Some scientists fear if this new world comes too soon, before men are prepared to use it wisely, it will bring with it great social and religious turmoil.

Genetic control poses the overwhelming question of who would decide not only how many new beings shall come into existence, but what they shall look like and how they shall think.

The possibility of genetic tinkering raises endless questions — social, political, economic and religious.

For instance, how will the churches, which believe the human form is divine, react to proposals to change that form?

And what might some future power-crazed dictator do if he held the key to the genes of a nation?

The answers lie hidden in the future. For the present, geneticists can only say:

It is time to start thinking.

FDR Secret Romance Is Told by Aide

NEW YORK (AP) — A former White House aide says a long, secret romance between Franklin D. Roosevelt and his wife's social secretary nearly broke up his marriage early in his political career.

Jonathan Daniels, now editor of the News & Observer in Raleigh, N.C., makes this disclosure in a book "The Time Between the Wars" to be published on Aug. 19.

Daniels, who was an administrative assistant and press secretary for Roosevelt, identified the woman as Lucy Mercer, "a member of the famous Carroll family of Maryland." She later became the wife of wealthy New Yorker Winthrop Rutherford. She died in 1948.

The author says that although the relationship supposedly ended in 1918, Roosevelt never completely severed the ties and that Mrs. Rutherford was with him at Warm Springs, Ga., on the day he died 21 years ago.

Daniels says Eleanor Roosevelt "was bitter and jealous of Lucy during all the years until the last when at Franklin's death in 1945 she found that Lucy, on one of her several trips to Warm Springs, had been with her husband when he died."
